Nutcases provide in-depth case analysis of the facts, principles and decision of the most important cases in an area of law. They include a number of features such as boxed "think points" to make them easy to use and retain the information. Nutcases are an essential revision aid and ideal for getting fully up to speed with a new subject.

This book provides a one-stop-shop for magistrates court work with no need to consult other references. It ensures portability with a one-volume format, ideal for court use, and covers all criminal matters dealt with in the magistrates court, including Youth Courts and procedure prior to trial in the Crown Court. Following a chronological order, it covers pre-trial matters, specific offences, trial and sentencing. The book includes full citation of authorities from statute and case law to provide an authoritative exposition of the law which can be cited in court, and provides practical guidance on substantive law, showing what the prosecution must prove, defences and sentencing for each offence. This book features specialist coverage of Youth Courts, dealing with the regime for vulnerable witnesses and case law including cases relating to ASBOs. It sets out how to deal with mentally disordered offenders, showing what special arrangements apply. Sexual Offences Act 2003, it offers expert guidance on sentencing, covering changes under the Criminal Justice Act 2003 and guidelines from the Sentencing Guidelines Council, together with advice on aggravating and mitigating circumstances. The book deals with extradition responsibilities for magistrates and contains procedural checklists to ensure quick reference and easy access to key information. Including flowcharts and diagrams to clarify complex areas such as dealing with young offenders, it includes relevant materials such as PACE Codes, Guidelines and Rules, that keeps you up-to-date with a supplementation service.

Specifically designed and written for use on the advanced criminal litigation option on the Bar Vocational Course, this manual adopts a pragmatic approach to its treatment of criminal law and focuses specifically on those areas of criminal law which are most important to the junior criminal practitioner and which they are most likely to encounter during their first years in practice. Split into three distinct parts, the first part of the manual deals with the crucial procedural aspects of criminal law which will be encountered in practice, including the scope of legal powers to enter and search premises, and abuse of process. Part II covers selected areas of the substantive law, which are particularly relevant to the junior practitioner, including public order offences, dangerous drugs, offensive weapons, and drink driving and road traffic offences. The final section features an extended case study focusing on features which the practitioner will commonly encounter in practice, including police witnesses, custody records and conflicts of interest between defendants. Including realistic case papers and typical exhibits, this section also features a set of tasks to perform and a sample answer offering trainee barristers the opportunity to practise applying their skills in a criminal litigation context.

Criminal Litigation: Practice and Procedure provides a thorough and practical guide to all areas of the law and practice with which the aspiring criminal litigator needs to be familiar. Written with the LPC in mind, this book is suitable for both the core module of Criminal Litigation and the Advanced Criminal Practice option.

Published in conjunction with The City Law School, the Bar Manuals are written specifically for students on the Bar Professional Training Course by expert teams of practising barristers and current or former tutors. Each manual provides a practical guide to the law, practice, and procedure of the individual subject, and offers clear explanations of the relevant substantive and procedural law. Where appropriate, the manuals contain worked examples, sample documentation, and exercises. Criminal Litigation and Sentencing offers an excellent introduction to the criminal justice system and the rules and procedures which govern the role of the criminal advocate. The manual provides practical guidance on all aspects of a criminal case, from arrest and charge, to trial, appeals, and sentence. Full consideration is given to criminal proceedings in magistrates', youth, and Crown courts, so that the trainee barrister is fully prepared for practice. Archbold Magistrates' Courts Criminal Practice is aimed at solicitors and key government institutions within the criminal justice sector. The work is designed to be an authoritative and comprehensive text dealing with practice, procedures, and law pertinent to the magistrates' courts. It is essential to all those involved in making the system effective: practitioners prosecuting or defending, authorities, magistrates and those responsible for advising them in the administration of the courts. It is portable and usable as a stand-alone reference in magistrates' court proceedings.

The Licensing (Scotland) Act 2005 completely overhauled Scottish Licensing law, sweeping away the Licensing (Scotland) Act 1976 and necessitating a completely new edition of his essential text. Since then there have been substantial and intricate changes effected by the Criminal Justice and Licensing (Scotland) Act 2010 and the Alcohol etc (Scotland) Act 2010. In this third edition, Jack Cummins again sets out the text of the 2005 Act, incorporating amendments, together with key regulations to which constant reference will be required. This new edition also takes into account a stream of cases from the sheriff court and Court of Session since the previous edition.

This work provides comprehensive coverage of criminal law and procedure in the magistrates courts, including the Youth court, from pre-trial through to sentencing and costs.

The fourth edition of this best-selling book has been thoroughly revised to take into account recent developments in the law in criminal practice and procedure across the region. The only textbook that explores criminal practice and procedure as it relates to the Commonwealth Caribbean, the book clarifies the state law in each of 11 jurisdictions, at the same time making it clear when laws are the same or similar and highlighting where differences among jurisdictions occur. Both statute law and common law are examined in the relevant jurisdictions, which include Trinidad and Tobago, Guyana, Barbados, Jamaica and Grenada amongst others. The impact of statutory changes in the laws are analysed, as well as recent developments in the common law. Throughout the text the statutory law in the Commonwealth Caribbean is compared to similar English legislation, in the light of the analysis of such legislation in English case law. Commonwealth Caribbean Criminal Practice and Procedure is the recommended textbook for all professional law schools in the Commonwealth Caribbean and is used at regional universities as a reference book for criminal justice students. In addition, as the only book that deals specifically with criminal practice and procedure in the regions, it has proved a valuable reference tool for legal practitioners, judicial officers and police officers.

Covers criminal matters dealt in the magistrates' court, including the Youth Courts. This book provides information for prosecuting, defending or trying criminal offences tried in the magistrates' court, and also deals with procedural matters prior to trial in the Crown Court. It covers pre-trial matters, trial, specific offences and sentencing.

Criminal Litigation and Sentencing offers an introduction to the law, principles and practices of criminal procedure that govern the role of the criminal advocate across the full range of criminal proceedings, including trial in the magistrates, youth and Crown courts. The manual has been fully updated in light of recent legal developments, including the Criminal Procedure Rules 2010, implementation of the Crime & Security Act 2010 and coverage of gang crimes and court/police powers under the Crime and Security Act 2010. Additional forms and examples of completed paperwork have been added to assist with a practical understanding of this topic. Criminal Litigation and Sentencing is essential reading for all trainee barristers, and is also a useful source of reference for junior practitioners wishing to refresh their knowledge of the criminal justice system and its procedures.

In this concise and valuable book the authors distil their vast expertise for the benefit of all those needing quick and targeted points of reference on key aspects of magistrates' court law, whether as newcomers, justices, legal advisers, or criminal practitioners. Hugely informed and presented in an accessible format, it explains the central law, practice and procedure of these courts. The framework of summary justice has changed comprehensively in the past decade in terms of evidence, procedure, guidelines, sentencing, training and the fair but efficient expedition of cases. This book sets out these developments as well as inescapable aspects of case management. Gathers core information in one place. Sets out key processes in a manageable and readable way. Reviews 'Readable and blissfully concise... There are some nuggets for every reader, however much we might think we know... An excellent addition to the bookshelf at a modest price'-- The Law Society Gazette (external link). 'Howard Riddle and Robert Zara have effectively produced a must-read for any judge, magistrate or lawyer practising in the magistrates' courts. This book will become the reference book to carry to court ... We thoroughly recommend it to all new judges, deputies and magistrates'— Emma Arbuthnot, Senior District Judge (Chief Magistrate) for England and Wales; John Bache, Chairman of the Magistrates Association; Duncan

Webster, Chairman, Magistrates' Leadership Executive. 'A very clear, succinct and practical guide which would be of great value to a pupil or junior practitioner finding their feet'— Anna Banfield, BPP. 'How useful your book is and how clear and well written I have found it. Undoubtedly an extremely useful resource'— Tom Lees JP, Greater Manchester. This volume covers all criminal matters dealt with in the magistrates court, including Youth Courts and procedure prior to trial in the Crown Court. This new edition includes coverage of the new Criminal Procedure Rules and the latest case law. This new edition has been updated to reflect significant developments in case law and in particular, the title has been revised to include new offences relating to inciting hatred on the grounds of sexual orientation.

Criminal Litigation and Sentencing gives the reader a detailed understanding of the key laws, rules, and procedures underpinning the criminal justice system from arrest and charge of a suspect, to trial, sentencing, and appeal.

Prosecution cases in the magistrates', Crown, youth, and appellant courts are each fully covered.

In direct response to your feedback we are introducing a new sentencing supplement to the Archbold service that will include the Sentencing Guidelines in full, as they are published by the Sentencing Council. The sentencing supplement also includes the relevant authorities and an abridged version of the Magistrates' Court sentencing guideline. The original pagination from the guidelines will be retained in the paragraph numbering for easy reference. -- publisher website.
