Best Manufacturing Practices: Report of Survey Conducted at McDonnell Douglas Aerospace, Huntington Beach, California ,1993 The Navy's Best Manufacturing Practices (BMP) program team conducted a survey at the McDonnell Douglas Aerospace (MDA) facilities located in Huntington Beach, California the week of 26-30 April 1993. The purpose of the MDA (also referred to as MDA-West) survey was to review and document its best practices and investigate any potential industry-wide problems. The BMP program will use this documentation as an initial step in a voluntary technology sharing process among the industry and government.

Medical Regulatory Affairs Jack Wong,Raymond K. Y. Tong,2022-01-27 This handbook covers medical device regulatory systems in different countries, ISO standards for medical devices, clinical trial and regulatory requirements, and documentation for application. It is the first to cover the medical device regulatory affairs in Asia. Experts from influential international regulatory bodies, including the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), UK Medicines and Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency, Japan Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Agency, Saudi Food and Drug Authority, Korea Testing Laboratory, Taiwan FDA, World Health Organization, Asian Harmonization Working Party, Regulatory Affairs Professionals Society, and British Standards Institution, have contributed to the book. Government bodies, the medical device industry, academics, students, and general readers will find the book immensely useful for understanding the global regulatory environment and in their research and development projects.

Current Good Manufacturing Practices Ewa Pietrysiak,Girish M. Ganjyal,2020 Current Good Manufacturing Practices (CGMPs) are the foundation of any food safety system. The CGMPs outline the minimum requirements for the methods, facilities, and controls used in production and packing of food to ensure its safety. The CGMPs are enforced by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and are described in Part 117, Subpart B, of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The word current emphasizes that food producers are obligated to use the latest modern technologies and solutions that enhance the food safety system. The CGMPs are minimum requirements, and food producers may establish their own, more stringent, requirements. The CGMPs are also one of the foundational programs of the FDA's Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) Preventive Controls for Human Food (PCHF) rule. Following the CGMPs can minimize or eliminate the risk of food contamination, thus ensuring that consumers purchase not only a safe but also a wholesome product. Not complying with the CGMPs can lead to the production of hazardous food products, recalls, or fines.

The Process Approach Audit Checklist for Manufacturing Karen Welch,2004 Finally, a comprehensive process audit checklist has been developed to be used with ISO 9001:2000! This manual was developed to assist anyone involved with conducting or planning quality system audits including quality auditors, quality managers, quality system coordinators, management representatives, and quality engineers. In addition, potential auditees in any function or position should find the questions useful in preparing for an audit. Although the checklist could be amended to work for a service company, the manual was created with a focus on the manufacturing sector to cover common processes such as production, management, customer-related, design and development, training, purchasing, etc. The manual includes: a brief overview of the process approach, discussion of problem areas often found by third party auditors, the process audit checklist, and forms to be used in conjunction with the process audit checklist to increase audit effectiveness. Handbook of Fruits and Fruit Processing Y. H. Hui,József Barta,M. Pilar Cano,Todd W. Gusek,Jiwan S. Sidhu,Nirmal K. Sinha,2008-02-28 The processing of fruits continues to undergo rapid change. In the Handbook of Fruits and Fruit

Processing, Dr. Y.H. Hui and his editorial team have assembled over forty respected academicians and industry professionals to create an indispensable resource on the scientific principles and technological methods for processing fruits of all types. The book describes the processing of fruits from four perspectives: a scientific basis, manufacturing and engineering principles, production techniques, and processing of individual fruits. A scientific knowledge of the horticulture, biology, chemistry, and nutrition of fruits forms the foundation. A presentation of technological and engineering principles involved in processing fruits is a prelude to their commercial production. As examples, the manufacture of several categories of fruit products is discussed. The final part of the book discusses individual fruits, covering their harvest to a finished product in a retail market. As a professional reference book replete with the latest research or as a practical textbook filled with example after example of commodity applications, the Handbook of Fruits and Fruit Processing is the current, comprehensive, yet compact resource ideal for the fruit industry.

HACCP in Meat, Poultry, and Fish Processing A. M. Pearson,T. R. Dutson,2012-12-06 The RACCP (hazard analysis critical control point) concept for food products was an outgrowth of the US space program with the demand for a safe food supply for manned space flights by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The original work was carried out by the Pillsbury Company under the direction of Roward E. Bauman, who as the author of chapter 1 describes the evolution of the RACCP system and its adaptation to foods. The second chapter discusses the adoption of RACCP principles and explains how they fit into the USDA and FDA meat, poultry and seafood inspection systems. The next chapter discusses how RACCP principles can be extended to production of meat, poultry and seafoods, a most important area involved in producing a safe food supply. Chapter 4 deals with the use of RACCP in controlling hazards encountered in slaughtering and distribution of fresh meat and poultry, while chapter 5 discusses the problem - both spoilage and hazards - involved in processing and distribution of meat, poultry and seafood products. Chapter 6 covers the entire area of fish and seafoods, including both fresh and processed products from the standpoints of spoilage and hazards.
