A collection of testimonials about life., love, hope, faith, and despair that we all have within ourselves and the overview blue horizon. Unforgettable. It's the mist of tranquility and the gloom of wonder and bewilderment. It's of fact and fiction. It's an awakening and a little pink ribbon. It's the She's just the kind of drama Interior designer Bertie Anderson has big dreams for her career, and they don't include being stuck in her hometown of Harmony, North Carolina. One last client, and Bertie is packing up her high heels and heading for her dream job in Atlanta. But her plans are derailed by the gorgeous new owner of that big old Victorian she's always wanted to renovate... He's vowed to avoid For retired tennis pro Keith Morgan, Harmony is a far cry from fast-paced Miami-which is exactly the point. Keith is starting a new life for himself and his daughter Maddie, and he's left the bright lights and hot women far behind. Bertie's exactly the kind of curvaceous temptation he doesn't need, and Keith refuses to let their sizzling attraction distract him from his goals. Keith and Bertie both have to learn that there's more than one kind of escape, and it takes more than wallpaper to turn a house into a home.

In a time of global awakening, a young woman and an enigmatic man fortuitously meet far away from home. Marina and Tiger try to make ends meet and look for the best life has to offer. Soon, their expectations clash, and after a climactic conflict, they break up. As Tiger drifts away, Marina is inspired by his notes and determined to write down his story as he would have told it, learning more about herself and the true nature of love in every scribble. Tiger's story is a turbulent tale of a sensitive man who tries to understand the world and wants to elevate it to a more humane state. He is chased by a series of strange coincidences that challenge him to adjust his view and purify his mind. With settings in some of the most beautiful places on earth, On My Way Home, dissects our world and reveals its true nature. The reader has a choice: read the book as Tiger's rollercoaster ride into awareness or as Marina's testimony to the challenges of unconditional love.

How do early experiences and a single mosquito in Boulder, Colorado, change an infant's brain, causing her to develop into a child riddled by fear, a young adult who must face a life-changing surgical procedure, and a nurse who understands the importance of caring for the most vulnerable patients in our healthcare system? My story is one of a caterpillar turning into a butterfly, an earth angel earning her wings, and a daughter rising from the depths and darkness of her parents' mental illnesses to become a healer. It's an emotional journey, fueled by fear and love - a journey to find my place in a world I was told I'd never be able to go. It's a story of apprehension, loss, challenges, excitement, and hope. A journey that allows me to care for patients with illnesses of the brain, patients who were once hidden from the world due to fear.

Journalist Walls grew up with parents whose ideals and stubborn nonconformity were their curse and their salvation. Rex and Rose Mary and their four children lived like nomads, moving among Southwest desert towns, camping in the mountains. Rex was a charismatic, brilliant man who, when sober, captured his children's imagination, teaching them how to embrace life fearlessly. Rose Mary painted and wrote and couldn't stand the responsibility of providing for her family. When the money ran out, the Walls retreated to the dismal West Virginia mining town Rex had tried to escape. As the dysfunction escalated, the children had to fend for themselves, supporting one another as they found the resources and will to leave home. Yet Walls describes her parents with deep affection in this tale of unconditional love in a family that, despite its profound flaws, gave her the fiery determination to carve out a successful life.

This is the story of a little dog called Sparky who unfortunately gets lost. It tells of the Adventures he has as he tries to find his way back home. He makes lots of friends and enemies too and also manages to find time for a little romance. Read how he finds a best friend in Nelson, a one eyed cat and how he meets and makes friends with the Cat gang. He meets a lot of other animals on the way but beware of Brutus the very big dog and then of course there is the deadly Rat Pack. Sit back, relax and enjoy The Adventures of Sparky. Sparky and Phoebe are the only pets mentioned in this book, that are still alive and they plus the cats names and the three Kimmies are pets that Thelma and I have owned since we have been together.

"God, if you're real, make yourself real to me." Each of us spends our lives on a journey toward God. Yet often our most deeply felt longings--for meaning, for love, for significance--end up leading us away from, instead of toward, our Creator and the person he made us to be. Finding Your Way Back to God shows you how to understand and listen to your longings in a whole new way. It's about waking up to who you really are, and daring to believe that God wants to be found even more than you want to find him. It's about making the biggest wager of your life as you ask God to make himself known to you. And it's about watching what happens next.

Daniel Holden has spent eighteen years looking over his shoulder and searching for his life's purpose. Now the shadow people are on his trail again, haunting and torturing him. As frustration and hopelessness lead him to the edge of insanity, Daniel drops out of college, determined to end his suffering by hurling his body off a bridge. But when he is mysteriously saved from his decided fate, Daniel embraces a second chance to turn his life around. After Josiah, a mysterious loner, takes him under his wing, Daniel discovers that he, like Josiah, is a Sage—the last-born member of a secret society destined to protect the world from evil forces. Being a Sage comes with a unique mission for Daniel: to one day lead the righteous souls of Earth in a final battle against the Sage's evil counterparts, the Goths. If he is victorious, the planet will experience peace and prosperity. If defeated, the Goths will enslave all of humanity into misery and darkness. With the help of Lucy, his new love and mentor, Daniel soon uncovers a new hurdle: a Sage killer is on the loose. In this young adult fantasy, a Sage couple must find a murderer and uncover a dark secret as the fate of the world awaits.

First it was a media sensation. Then it became the #1 international bestseller A Long Way Home. Now it's Lion, the major motion picture starring Dev Patel, Nicole Kidman, and Rooney Mara—nominated for six Academy Awards! This is the miraculous and triumphant story of Saroo Brierley, a young man who used Google Earth to rediscover his childhood life and home in an incredible journey from India to Australia and back again... At only five years old, Saroo Brierley got lost on a train in India. Unable to read or write or recall the name of his hometown or even his own last name, he survived alone for weeks on the rough streets of Calcutta before ultimately being transferred to an agency and adopted by a couple in Australia. Despite his gratitude, Brierley always wondered about his origins. Eventually, with the advent of Google Earth, he had the opportunity to look for the needle in a haystack he once called home, and pore over satellite images for landmarks he might recognize or mathematical equations that might further narrow down the labyrinthine map of India. One day, after years of searching, he miraculously found what he was looking for and set off to find his family. Lion is a moving, poignant, and inspirational true story of survival and triumph against incredible odds. It celebrates the importance of never letting go of what drives the human spirit: hope. Previously published as A Long Way Home

Can't Find My Way Home is a history of illicit drug use in America in the second half of the twentieth century and a personal journey through the drug experience. It's the remarkable story of how America got high, the epic tale of how the American Century transformed into the Great Stoned Age. Martin Torgoff begins with the avant-garde worlds of bebop jazz and the emerging Beat writers, who embraced the consciousness-altering properties of marijuana and other underground drugs. These musicians and writers midwived the age of marijuana in the 1960s even as Timothy Leary and Richard Alpert (later Ram Dass) discovered the power of LSD, ushering in the psychedelic era. While President John Kennedy proclaimed a New Frontier and NASA journeyed to the moon, millions of young Americans began discovering their own new frontiers on a voyage to inner space. What had been the province of a fringe avant-garde only a decade earlier became a mass movement that affected and altered mainstream America. And so America sped through the century, dropping acid and eating magic mushrooms at home, shooting heroin and ingesting amphetamines in Vietnam, snorting cocaine in the disco era, smoking crack cocaine in the devastated inner cities of the 1980s, discovering MDMA (Ecstasy) in the rave culture of the 1990s. Can't Find My Way Home tells this extraordinary story by weaving together first-person accounts and historical background into a narrative vast in scope yet rich in intimate detail. Among those who describe their experiments with consciousness are Allen Ginsberg, Timothy Leary, Robert Stone, Wavy Gravy, Grace Slick, Oliver Stone, Peter Coyote, David Crosby, and many others from Haight Ashbury to Studio 54 to housing projects and rave warehouses. But Can't Find My Way Home does not neglect the recovery movement, the war on drugs, and the ongoing debate over drug policy. And even as Martin Torgoff tells the story of his own addiction and recovery, he neither romanticizes nor demonizes drugs. If he finds them less dangerous than the moral crusaders say they are, he also finds them less benign than advocates insist. Illegal drugs changed the cultural landscape of America, and they continue to shape our country, with enormous consequences. This ambitious, fascinating book is the story of how that happened.

Before GPS, before the compass, and even before cartography, humankind was navigating. Now this singular guide helps us rediscover what our ancestors long understood—that a windswept tree, the depth of a puddle, or a trill of birdsong can help us find our way, if we know what to look and listen for. Adventurer and navigation expert Tristan Gooley unlocks the directional clues hidden in the sun, moon, stars, clouds, weather patterns, lengthening shadows, changing tides, plant growth, and the habits of wildlife. Rich with navigational anecdotes collected across ages, continents, and cultures, The Natural Navigator will help keep you on course and open your eyes to the wonders, large and small, of the natural world.

A powerful illustrated history of the Great Migration and its sweeping impact on Black and American culture, from Reconstruction to the rise of hip hop. Over the course of six decades, an unprecedented wave of Black Americans left the South and spread across the nation in search of a better life--a migration that sparked stunning demographic and cultural changes in twentieth-century America.

Through gripping and accessible historical narrative paired with illustrations, author and activist Blair Imani examines the largely overlooked impact of The Great Migration and how it affected--and continues to affect--Black identity and America as a whole. Making Our Way Home explores issues like voting rights, domestic terrorism, discrimination, and segregation alongside the flourishing of arts and culture, activism, and civil rights. Imani shows how these influences shaped America's workforce and wealth distribution by featuring the stories of notable people and events, relevant data, and family histories. The experiences of prominent figures such as James Baldwin, Fannie Lou Hamer, El Hajj Malik El Shabazz (Malcolm X), Ella Baker, and others are woven into the larger historical and cultural narratives of the Great Migration to create a truly singular record of this powerful journey.

Ursula K. Le Guin, celebrated for her speculative fiction, was also a prolific poet. Although poetry framed Le Guin's life, her poetic oeuvre never garnered the same acclaim as her fiction. Distinct from the cosmic worldbuilding of her science fiction and fantasy, Le Guin's poems were "smaller scale, more intimate, more fragile." As a tribute anthology, Climbing Lightly Through Forests hosts multiple conversations: poets respond to Ursula K. Le Guin, her work, or their own reactions to Le Guin or her work; editors Lemberg and Bradley put the poets in conversation with each other and with readers. Poets from around the world (including Greece, Spain, Trinidad and Tobago, Chile, the UK, Australia, Canada, and the United States) contribute perspectives that both honor and challenge Le Guin's legacy. In addition, Lemberg, Here I stand, beholding an amazing paradise. Never, in my entire life have my eyes envisioned such beauty, not even in travel brochures or nature magazines. Jasmine vines and honeysuckle bushes, perfume the air with the most fragrant smell that has ever filled my nostrils. How did I get here; I do not recall? I think to myself, do I have amnesia or have I died and gone to heaven? Are my love ones searching for me? Where in all glory can I be? Can you help me find my way home?

CAN'T FIND MY WAY HOME "Can't Find My Way Home" is a collection of short stories devoted to how far a person will go when their lives didn't go the way they wanted them to. Our title story features Kris and Ray. They should have been rock gods. Their meteoric rise in the electric blues band 'Adam's Rockets' exploded in the stratosphere when bandleader Adam ruined their key performance. After decades of obscurity for everyone, Adam needs help. Will he get it? "To Balance the World" gives us Charlie. There are a lot of nice people in the world – Charlie isn't one of them. He's served 26 years for killing his wife's lover. Now he's out, and along with staying by his side, his wife wants to act like nothing happened. Not so with Charlie. He has it in his mind that he should and will kill his wife. Will they make it home? Unlike Charlie, the husband in "Our Separate Ways" loves his wife. He loves her with a passion - although it's been 17 years since she was kidnapped, never to be seen again. Wait a minute. He's just seen her. Our collection concludes with "Behoove". Richie has just come into some money thanks to some ancient dirty pictures featuring the state's Governor in much younger days. Her lawyer wants the pictures and he's willing to pay big bucks for 'em. Too bad Richie has neighbors...

Overbooking? Running late? Feeling overwhelmed by clutter and to-dos? Management consultant Dr. Marilyn Paul guides you on a path to personal change that will bring true relief from the pain and stress of disorganization. Unlike other books on getting organized, It's Hard to Make a Difference When You Can't Find Your Keys offers a clear seven-step path to personal development that is comprehensive in nature. Drawing on her own experience as a chronically disorganized person, Paul adds warmth, insight, humor, and hope to this manual for change and self-discovery. She introduces the notion of becoming "organized enough" to live a far more rewarding life and make the difference that is most important to you.

Titles: Back in the High Life Again * Can't Find My Way Home * Dear Mr. Fantasy * Dirty City * Empty Pages * The Finer Things * Freedom Rider * Gimme Some Lovin' * Glad * Had to Cry Today * Higher Love * I'm a Man * The Low Spark of High-Heeled Boys * Pearly Queen * Presence of the Lord * Roll With It * Valerie * Well All Right * While You See a Chance.

The chief aim of these books is to furnish material that interests and engages the reader, at all skill levels. For beginning readers, the teacher paves the way by oral reading, followed by the pupil retelling the story to the teacher. In this way, the pupil acquires reading vocabulary by (1) by the illustration, (2) by the impetus of the story, or the context, (3) by the position of the words in the sentences, and (4) by repetition. A variety of subjects, authors, and types of literature are presented to that end, with a corresponding increase in new vocabulary and thematic complexity as the pupil advances.

The KonMari Method, with its revolutionary category-by-category system, leads to lasting results. In fact, none of Kondo's clients have lapsed (and she still has a three-month waiting list). With detailed guidance for determining which items in your house "spark joy" (and which don't), this international bestseller will help you clear your clutter and enjoy the unique magic of a tidy home—and the calm, motivated mindset it can inspire.

A woman returns to her Chesapeake Bay hometown to face the demons of her past in this romantic suspense novel—"an excellent read" (Publishers Weekly, starred review). Twelve-year-old Brynn Wilder and her brother Mark receive a traumatic double shock when their father is found dead in the woods—and then identified as Maryland's notorious Genessa Point Killer. Eighteen years later, the emotional scars still haven't healed for the Wilder family, and now Mark is back in Genessa Point to clear his father's name. Though Brynn swore she'd never return, a series of cryptic phone messages suggest that her brother needs her. Then Mark suddenly goes missing, and Brynn must turn to Genessa Point's new Sheriff, Garret Dane, for help. Brynn has good reason not to trust the Dane family—after all, it was Garret's father who convinced the town of her own father's guilt. But as they work together to find Mark, Brynn and Garret discover that deadly danger still lurks in Genessa Point. And uncovering the truth of the past may also lead them to a future together.

One week is all we were supposed to share. One week as strangers. All the things you did differently irked me. I thought it meant we couldn't get along, that there was no chance we'd work out. But when it came time for me to leave, you know what I figured out? You were my echo. My call back. And damn it if I didn't find home in the end.
