Having a problem deciding which side of the fence you are on, Liberal or Conservative? Confused about the deficit versus debt issue? Definitely doped out as to why the politicians in Washington can't seem to accomplish what you want them to do? Here is a plan to wipe out years of accumulated rust in the lawmaking pipes in the corridors of Congress. Our current Constitution is a marvel of simplicity and, at the same time, a conglomeration of complexity. It is not easy to try to govern, but it is just as difficult for the governed to be favorably inclined to those whose governing rule is to obfuscate, deceive, steal, and mismanage. All of the above are the result of the Constitution's lack of definition as to the rules and regulations provided to the Congress by the founding fathers of the country. The framers of the Constitution are justifiably not to be blamed for their oversight. How could they look ahead 235 years and forecast the mess into which we have gotten. It is up to us, the living, to make the necessary-and difficult-choices that will enable us to remain as a world symbol of freedom. This book will attempt to be a guideline for the task. John F. Naglee Sr. was employed in the Bell System for thirty-eight years, starting at Bell of Pennsylvania then moving to Bell Labs and AT&T. He retired in 1989, and created his own small business, which he ran for thirteen years. John was educated at the Central High School of Philadelphia (196), Temple University, the US Army and life, and resides in beautiful Central Florida. John is the author of Global Warming and Planet Earth: The Spin Stops Here, a nonfiction work suggesting an alternative cause of Climate Change, and espousing a complete halt to the lunacy of taxpayer-funded space travel.

Is this the America you want? If not, here's how to claim the power to change your country. We are in an age of epic political turbulence in America. Old hierarchies and institutions are collapsing. From the election of Donald Trump to the upending of the major political parties to the spread of grassroots movements like Black Lives Matter and $15 Now, people across the country and across the political spectrum are reclaiming power. Are you ready for this age of bottom-up citizen power? Do you understand what power truly is, how it flows, who has it, and how you can claim and exercise it? Eric Liu, who has spent a career practicing and teaching civic power, lays out the answers in this incisive, inspiring, and provocative book. Using examples from the left and the right, past and present, he reveals the core laws of power. He shows that all of us can generate power-and then, step by step, he shows us how. The strategies of reform and revolution he lays out will help every reader make sense of our world today. If you want to be more than a spectator in this new era, you need to read this book.

This book details how John G. Lake obtained the spiritual power for healing he had, and shows the readers how they can obtain some measure of that same spiritual power. It follows the spiritual journey that Lake took, and lays out in 10 chapters the steps that the reader must also take to receive the same type of power. The ten steps are: Be Desperately Hungry, Be Fully Convinced, Be Dedicated and Single-Minded, Be Filled with the Word of God, Be Patient and Steadfast, Be Full of Faith, the Holy Spirit, and Power, Be Righteous and Holy, Be Bold and Courageous, Be Unafraid to Fail, Be Determined to Succeed. The author states that any reader who takes the same spiritual journey Lake did will begin to successfully minister healing to the sick.

An essential guide to building transformative movements to address the challenges of our time, from one of the country's leading organizers and a co-creator of Black Lives Matter "Excellent and provocative . . . a gateway [to] urgent debates."—Keeanga-Yamahtta Taylor, The New Yorker NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR BY Time • Marie Claire • Kirkus Reviews In 2013, Alicia Garza wrote what she called "a love letter to Black people" on Facebook, in the aftermath of the acquittal of the man who murdered seventeen-year-old Trayvon Martin. Garza wrote: Black people. I love you. I love us. Our lives matter. With the speed and networking capacities of social media, #BlackLivesMatter became the hashtag heard 'round the world. But Garza knew even then that hashtags don't start movements—people do. Long before #BlackLivesMatter became a rallying cry for this generation, Garza had spent the better part of two decades learning and unlearning some hard lessons about organizing. The lessons she offers are different from the “rules for radicals” that animated earlier generations of activists, and diverge from the charismatic, patriarchal model of the American civil rights movement. She reflects instead on how making room amongst the woke for those who are still awakening can inspire and activate more people to fight for the world we all deserve. This is the story of one woman’s lessons through years of bringing people together to create change. Most of all, it is a new paradigm for change for a new generation of changemakers, from the mind and heart behind one of the most important movements of our time.

Is it actually possible? ...that we might emerge from this pandemic with a peaceful global power switch from those who have too much to those who don't have enough? With billionaires able to decide the fate of nations, private corporations more powerful and less accountable than ever, and political autocrats around the world shaking our confidence in democratic institutions, power resides in all the wrong places. And so our world is in crisis. In such moments, activists find opportunities. Not to restore the pre-crisis order, but to transform it. Paul O'Brien argues that progressive activists may never have a better opportunity to rewrite economic rules, systems and outcomes in favor of those who don't have enough. His book offers practical action steps for activists who want to drive a power switch that overcomes extreme inequalities in our world.

In our modern and fast moving world and lives, more and more people are being left behind in the race for physical riches (by those that have more than they can spend in this lifetime), and thus live in conditions which are generally described as being poor or even below the poverty line, and because of their longing for some luxuries and often bare necessities, the poorer people become trapped into the credit-card and loan systems on offer, borrowing and buying often beyond their means enticed too by the many advertisements in the printed media and on TV, telling them they can have everything they want now and pay for it later by borrowing up to the limits, or against the equity of their homes, often for goods or services they do not really need or want. Others again take out mortgages to buy expensive homes beyond their means or ability to repay the often over valued and priced homes. At times also through their sheer ignorance people are unaware of the consequences of their often impulsive actions and motives. The reason for this in many cases is; “they are so involved in running their lives, trying to make ends meet that they have no time to look outside the proverbial square!” Others again become involved in activities such as compulsive gambling, drinking and smoking, which consume a large proportion of their disposable income. In our modern world it is also becoming more evident through the almost daily exposure of corrupt officials, crooked trades people, unethical businesses, industries and service providers, that honesty and ethics seem to have disappeared and have been replaced by the terminology, me, me, me and profit, profit, profit at any cost. People have to become more and more vigilant and aware of what is going on around them and protect them-selves by whatever means available to them from the impact these outside influences have on their finances, lives, families and relationships. Consequently, many when realizing what is happening try to turn their lives around, to break out of this vicious cycle of monetary enslavement, but due to the circumstances they find themselves in, very few actually can see a way out of their misery or manage to do something about it. Many in their despair seek outside help by attending seminars and workshop that promise them they will change their lives and circumstances and more often than not, pay enormous amounts of money to secure a seat at these sessions, and when one listens to some of the talk, it sounds quite logical and believable, but does it work? During the session people get all fired up heading for home to turn into practice what they have learned, only to find that after a few weeks their situations and conditions have not changed, leaving them with a feeling of disappointment and helplessness about their situation. The facts are, nothing will change unless, "people themselves make a personal effort, commit them-selves too and have the desire to make the changes and to see them through!" A favored saying which is often used is, that you must believe you already have what you desire otherwise it cannot come into your life. But how can you believe in something you know, and through your eyes you can see it not to be true, because in the process of co-creation, your mind is playing a very important part, and when you can only see the opposite around you day after day and when whatever you try does not work, how can you believe you already have what you want or desire? Consequently, when this happens, people become disillusioned and start to believe that they have no power over what happens in their lives and many even stop trying altogether. The contents of the book are based on events, situations and conditions which actually occurred in the author's life, and are happening to the average working families in Australia and world wide on a daily basis in their lives. Through observations made, media reports and personal situations encountered, Hans descri

Create a personal "power grid" of influence to spark professional and personal success "Other people have the answers, deals, money, access, power, and influence you need to get what you want in this world. success. In How to Be a Power Connector, super-networker Judy Robinett argues that strategic relationship planning should be your top priority. When you combine your specific skills and talents with a clear, workable path for creating and managing your relationships, nothing will stop you from meeting your goals. With high-value connections, you'll tap into a dynamic "power grid" of influence guaranteed to accelerate your personal and professional success. Robinett uses her decades of experience connecting the world's highest achievers with one another to help you build high-value relationships. She reveals all the secrets of her trade, including proven ways to:

- Find and enter the best network "ecosystem" to meet your goals
- Reach even the most unreachable people quickly and effectively
- Get anyone's contact information within 30 seconds
- Create a "3-D connection" that adds value to multiple people at the same time
- Access key influencers through industry and community events
- Subtly seed conversation with information about interests and needs
- Use social media to your best advantage

Robinett has based her methods on solid research proving that social groups begin to break up when they become larger than 150 people, and that 50 members is the optimal size for group communication. As such, she has developed what she calls the "5+50+100" method: contact your top 5 connections daily, your Key 50 weekly, and your Vital 100 monthly. This is your power grid, and it will work wonders for your career. Nothing will stop you when you learn How to Be a Power Connector.

The sun gives forth to us heat and light rays, without which this old world could never be. Glory to warmth and light, which are power and wisdom shed upon us. But there is likewise a third kind of ray shed by old Sol, whose mission we may not so readily bless. The sun's actinic rays are death-dealing. They cause disintegration, decomposition.

From two influential and visionary thinkers comes a big idea that is changing the way movements catch fire and ideas spread in our highly connected world. For the vast majority of human history, power has been held by the few. "Old power" is closed, inaccessible, and leader-driven. Once gained, it is jealously guarded, and the powerful spend it carefully, like currency. But the technological revolution of the past two decades has made possible a new form of power, one that operates differently, like a current. "New power" is made by many; it is open, participatory, often leaderless, and peer-driven. Like water or electricity, it is most forceful when it surges. The goal with new power is not to hoard it, but to channel it. New power is behind the rise of participatory communities like Facebook and YouTube, sharing services like Uber and Airbnb, and rapid-fire social movements like Brexit and #BlackLivesMatter. It explains the unlikely success of Barack Obama's 2008 campaign and the unlikelier victory of Donald Trump in 2016. And it gives ISIS its power to propagate its brand and distribute its violence. Even old power institutions like the Papacy, NASA, and LEGO have tapped into the strength of the crowd to stage improbable reinventions. In New Power, the business leaders/social visionaries Jeremy Heimans and Henry Timms provide the tools for using new power to successfully spread an idea or lead a movement in the twenty-first century. Drawing on examples from business, politics, and social justice, they explain the new world we live in--a world where connectivity has made change shocking and swift and a world in which everyone expects to participate.

depression, or emotional distress? Are you unable to pay your financial debts or put enough food on the table for your family? Has someone you knew experienced an untimely death? It's likely you've encountered at least a few of these, and you've probably chalked them up to just being a part of life. In truth, they are just a few of the ways Satan manifests in people's lives. How to Unleash the Supernatural Power within You shows you how to recognize Satan's influences on your life and the lives of friends and family members. Most important, author Odette Dika Akwa (Princess) shares how to overcome his powers by tapping into God's love and grace. Real-life stories show how better health, financial security, and a better life can be achieved once one rejects Satan's influence and gives his or her life—and trust—to God. In How to Unleash the Supernatural Power within You, you'll discover faith makes the impossible possible and opens doors for God to bring His unmerited gifts to you. His blessings will find you wherever you are, because God is no respecter of persons. He blesses you regardless of how many people are against you. With His help, you can defeat Satan and his influences on your life.

frustrating day wondering what they could have done to turn a negative experience into a positive one? Perhaps it was a difficult conversation with a domineering boss, or an encounter with a know-it-all peer who made you feel insecure. Would you believe the way you react to these interactions likely stems from the dynamics you experienced as a child? Could it be that your childhood persona has grown into your power persona at work? In Power Genes, executive coach Maggie Craddock reveals how to kick those old habits—trying too hard to please, acting out, using manipulative methods of persuasion—and tells how to use power more effectively to advance your career. Craddock identifies four power types and explains how to diagnose yours:

- The Pleaser—you make others feel good about themselves but need constant validation and approval from them
- The Charmer—you draw others in with your charm, yet trust is your Achilles heel
- The Commander—you take charge of the situation and gain admiration from others, but fear any loss of control
- The Inspirer—you are star power in action, yet your vision for the future can derail the needs of workers right now

The book outlines a process for avoiding your type's signature destructive reflexes and replacing them with new behaviors—helping you to interact productively with other people in the office. By showing you how to recognize your type's blind spots and then recondition your actions, Power Genes will give you the insights and action plan you need to become a more consistently powerful professional. It's time to throw out unproductive habits and take charge of your workplace relationships.

Amoral, cunning, ruthless, and instructive, this multi-million-copy New York Times bestseller is the definitive manual for anyone interested in gaining, observing, or defending against ultimate control – from the author of The Laws of Human Nature. In the book that People magazine proclaimed “beguiling” and “fascinating,” Robert Greene and Joost Elffers have distilled three thousand years of the history of power into 48 essential laws by drawing from the philosophies of Machiavelli, Sun Tzu, and Carl Von Clausewitz and also from the lives of figures ranging from Henry Kissinger to P.T. Barnum. Some laws teach the need for prudence (“Law 1: Never Outshine the Master”), others teach the value of confidence (“Law 28: Enter Action with Boldness”), and many recommend absolute self-preservation (“Law 15: Crush Your Enemy Totally”). Every law, though, has one thing in common: an interest in total domination. In a bold and arresting two-color package, The 48 Laws of Power is ideal whether your aim is conquest, self-defense, or simply to understand the rules of the game. home, and in any social situation. These aren't the people skills you learned in school. This is the first comprehensive, science backed, real life manual on how to captivate anyone—and a completely new approach to building connections. Just like knowing the formulas to use in a chemistry lab, or the right programming language to build an app, Captivate provides simple ways to solve people problems. You'll learn, for example... · How to work a room: Every party, networking event, and social situation has a predictable map. Discover the sweet spot for making the most connections. · How to read faces: It's easier than you think to speed-read facial expressions and use them to predict people's emotions. · How to talk to anyone: Every conversation can be memorable—once you learn how certain words generate the pleasure hormone dopamine in listeners. When you understand the laws of human behavior, your influence, impact, and income will increase significantly. What's more, you will improve your interpersonal intelligence, make a killer first impression, and build rapport quickly and authentically in any situation—negotiations, interviews, parties, and pitches. You'll never interact the same way again.

Taking a brass tacks approach to communication, How to Have Confidence and Power in Dealing With People explains how to interact with others as they really are, not as you would like them to be. The goal is to get what you want from them successfully – be it cooperation, goodwill, love or security. Les Giblin, a recognized expert in the field of human relations, has devised a method for dealing with people that can be used when relating with anyone – parents, teachers, bosses, employees, friends, acquaintances, even strangers. Giblin shows step by step how to get what you want at any time and in ways that leave you feeling good about yourself. Moreover, the people who have given you what you want wind up feeling good about themselves, too. The result? Nobody gets shortchanged. It's a win-win situation. Each chapter includes a handy summary, so there's absolutely no chance of missing the book's key points. You can also use these recaps to refresh your memory after you've finished the book. Expert practical advice from an experienced race engine builder on how to build an ignition system that delivers maximum power reliably.

This eBook edition of "THE SECRET OF SUCCESS: How to Achieve Power, Success & Mental Influence (Complete William Walker Atkinson Collection)" has been formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices. The time-tested advices in this collection would surely help those who are searching for that little something in their lives to attain the ultimate success, power and lasting influence on others around them! William Walker Atkinson (1862-1932) was a prolific writer. His works treat themes related to the mental world, occultism, divination, psychic reality, and mankind's nature. They constitute a basis for what Atkinson called "New Psychology" or "New Thought". Over 90 percent of US power generation comes from large, centralized, highly polluting, nonrenewable sources of energy. It is delivered through long, brittle transmission lines, and then is squandered through inefficiency and waste. But it doesn't have to be that way. Communities can indeed produce their own local, renewable energy. Power from the People explores how homeowners, co-ops, nonprofit institutions, governments, and businesses are putting power in the hands of local communities through distributed energy programs and energy-efficiency measures. Using examples from around the nation - and occasionally from around the world - Greg Pahl explains how to plan, organize, finance, and launch community-scale energy projects that harvest energy from sun, wind, water, and earth. He also explains why community power is a necessary step on the path to energy security and community resilience - particularly as we face peak oil, cope with climate change, and address the need to transition to a more sustainable future. This book - the second in the Chelsea Green Publishing Company and Post Carbon Institute's Community Resilience Series - also profiles numerous communitywide initiatives that can be replicated elsewhere.
