"Fascinating...full of optimism...this quick, accessible read will appeal to anyone with interest in how plants continue to surprise us." —Library Journal Do plants have intelligence? Do they have memory? Are they better problem solvers than people? The Revolutionary Genius of Plants—a fascinating, paradigm-shifting work that upends everything you thought you knew about plants—makes a compelling scientific case that these and other astonishing ideas are all true. Plants make up eighty percent of the weight of all living things on earth, and yet it is easy to forget that these innocuous, beautiful organisms are responsible for not only the air that lets us survive, but for many of our modern comforts: our medicine, food supply, even our fossil fuels. On the forefront of uncovering the essential truths about plants, world-renowned scientist Stefano Mancuso reveals the surprisingly sophisticated ability of plants to innovate, to remember, and to learn, offering us creative solutions to the most vexing technological and ecological problems that face us today. Despite not having brains or central nervous systems, plants perceive their surroundings with an even greater sensitivity than animals. They efficiently explore and react promptly to potentially damaging external events thanks to their cooperative, shared systems; without any central command centers, they are able to remember prior catastrophic events and to actively adapt to new ones. Every page of The Revolutionary Genius of Plants bubbles over with Stefano Mancuso's infectious love for plants and for the eye-opening research that makes it more and more clear how remarkable our fellow inhabitants on this planet really are. In his hands, complicated science is wonderfully accessible, and he has loaded the book with gorgeous photographs that make for an unforgettable reading experience. The Revolutionary Genius of Plants opens the doors to a new understanding of life on earth.

Cordelia is eight years old, with a name she hates, a mother who's distracted, and a nanny who doesn't speak her language. Everyone thinks she's a little girl with problems, but to Cordelia, her only problem is that everyone has a colour and she doesn't: mum's is "steely and sharp", nanny Martha is "sandy and slippery", her teacher is "clammy and whitish like over-cooked pasta", while grandad was "green and gold". How can she know what her colour is? And so one day Cordelia decides not to go to school, but to go off on an adventure to find her colour. If she finds it, she thinks, then she'll also find the key to all the boxes where words are locked away, and she'll be able to break the pact of silence she's made, even with her little confidante, Cordelia-in-the-mirror. Who is Mr d? Why does she decide some people on the streets of Milan are invisible? And why is White-wizard following her? A quirky rite-of-passage story whose delightful magic captivates the reader.
