“Nobody can live forever. Allah (SWT) created us and gives us life, and Allah will decide when to end our lives and take us back to Him (2:156). Naturally, we might fear the time when loved ones will pass away, and we also might worry about when our own time will come. But our faith tells us about death and teaches us what we must do to prepare for the hereafter. In this book, we teach two key lessons. In the first story, “Life Goes On,” Amira’s parents explain that they can’t and won’t always be with her, but that Allah (SWT) always is and will always continue to take care of her. Not only that, a person’s life doesn’t stop with death; rather, it is a transition from one world to another. Therefore, while it’s expected to miss the one who passed away, we should take solace in the fact that, “The hereafter is better and more lasting” (87:17). The second story is about preparing ourselves for the hereafter. Our belief in Qiyamah, the Day of Judgement, fundamentally changes how we live our lives. We didn’t come into this world simply to go to school, get a job, have a family, and then die. Allah (SWT) tells us that He created death and life as a test to see who is the best in deeds (67:2). We must try to perform the best of deeds such that we become good human beings in the eyes of God, before our time on earth is up. Good deeds are like bricks, which we can use to build our house in paradise, our ultimate destination, insha’Allah. The second story, “A Home in the Hereafter,” conveys this lesson through Haroon Uncle’s example, as he role models what it means to live a life for the next.”—Provided by publisher.

book was enlightening and entertaining. Also, I think there are many similarities across religions with respect to their morals and values for a life well spent. I cannot say whether the book might be confusing for very small children from different faiths, but I think it would be great for Islam children of various ages and for older children from other faiths." -Dr. Jay "[The] idea would have been to buy the book.. brand it to MC and give it away free. This book is VERY nicely illustrated (calming color scheme; enchanting overall) and evenly paced. It can be hard to write for a very young audience, especially about religions, but this book gets it right. In addition, I would also recommend this book for older non-Muslim children and teens, who simply want to learn more about Islam. Well done!"-Christy Burbidge, Author, Copy Editor, MSW (Simmons University) and PhD in Expressive Therapies (Lesley University) "The last story about the gardens of Sheba was by far the best and illustrated wonderfully."-Nikki Lewen, 5 Stars Award winning American Author, who was featured at the National John Steinbeck Center About the Author Julia Hanke was born and raised in Germany. connect with our Creator five times a day. We must start teaching our children as early as seven years old as we were instructed by our Prophet, peace be upon him, by creating a positive atmosphere that encourages them to pray and forming a habit. Little Zaid's Journey to Salah takes us on Zaid's journey to how he was introduced to the Islamic Ritualized Prayer. Zaid shares the story of his first trip to his local Mosque with his dad and shares the story of how he went from praying once a day to five times a day. Zaid also teaches us the purpose of Salah, why we pray, and how to perform wudu (ablution) and perform the prayer. What better way to teach your child than learning it from a beautiful little story narrated by their peer with beautiful colorful illustrations that they'll love. The story of Zaid's Journey to Salah is guaranteed to teach, inspire, and encourage your child to love and look forward to praying and connecting with his Creator.

The Religion of Islam is based upon Five Primary Foundations or Pillars. Just as a building or a bridge would lack stability without strong pillars, a Muslim's relationship with Allah, his God, would lack a focus and a secure connection without the observance of and adherence to these fundamental Five Pillars. These Five Pillars or religious duties are mandatory. Every Muslim must follow and practice them with the utmost devotion. Failure to comply and practice any of these dictates can be considered the commission of serious sin, some resulting even in the expulsion of a believer from the fold and faith of Islam. Like the Ten Commandments of the Jewish and Christian faiths, these Pillars provide a spiritual foundation and a framework to guide a Muslim's life. Fulfillment of these Five Pillars provides blessings and rewards for those who follow them in both this life and the next. These Pillars help Muslims establish a closer relationship with their Creator and build a spiritual connection with Him. A faithful Muslim prioritizes these Pillars over all worldly matters, principles, or regulations in their lives, as they form the foundation and starting point for all other good deeds and acts of worship to their Creator. ??
