

Kids Grief Journal And Coloring Book

What are the things that you can see at the construction site? These are the small items that workers use to build buildings. It's interesting to note that knowledge of these tools might lead to a general understanding of how buildings are created. Doesn't this the perfect book to introduce your child to the world of engineering? Grab a copy t

This super cute cow will "moo!" every day to approve of your artwork. Coloring is an exercise that comes with so many benefits, including the key life skills of relaxation and patience, focus, and confidence. It leads to the ability to recognize patterns, perspectives, lines and forms, too. Grab a copy of this coloring book today!

Are you a grieving parent, looking for ways to help relieve the intense pain, anger, and confusion? Do you want to move toward hope and life again? Search the internet, and you will find all kinds of studies to prove that coloring relieves stress. Journaling also helps us get in touch with things we might be feeling, but haven't been able to put into words. This book, My Grief Journey: Coloring Book and Journal (for grieving parents) puts the two together. Each page has a word (for example, confusion, helpless, anger, future, hope, comfort, thankful, etc.) surrounded by beautiful artwork which is intentionally hand drawn. You may see uneven, wobbly lines and maybe even an occasional mistake. This mirrors life much clearer than a perfect computer generated drawing. Life throws things at us that make us feel uneven and wobbly. And occasionally we blow it. But if we continue on, in the end, it will be beautiful. Also on the page, you will find a scroll, with a prompt for writing your thoughts and emotions about that word. On the page next to it, you will find where author, Laura Diehl, shares her own thoughts about that word, along with a verse from the Bible. For those who purchase My Grief Journey: Coloring Book and Journal (for grieving parents) there is a private Facebook page, where photos of the colored pages can be shared, and those grieving can be a community of hope and encouragement for one another. Details are in the book.

A practical format for allowing children to understand the concept of death and develop coping skills for life, this book is designed for young readers to illustrate.

Misfits- A Coloring Book for Adults and ODD Children. Not your average coloring book... Twenty-Five lowbrow fantasy art single sided images to color, taken from the original art of White Stag (Terra Bidlespacher) featuring creepy cute feather brimmed big eyed girls in dark, humorous and whimsical situations... This book includes a wide range of White Stag's art including hobo princesses, zombies, unicorns, sailors, morbidly obese cats and more! Use markers, crayons, colored pencils and a little flair of glitter, whatever your heart's content to color your own world! Choose your own palette or use the original palettes as inspiration. White Stag's art is enjoyed by both old and young alike with whimsical fantasy depictions of outcasts in seemingly nonsensical situations. Make sure to follow White Stag to find out when new books are available and to see all new art: www.whiteStagArt.com

Drawing comes with several benefits. One of these is the development of fine motor skills that will aid in the completion of tasks involving object manipulation by hand. As your child draws, he/she begins to express what he/she imagines.

Objects are given careful details so features are learned. This way, you can understand what your child creates. How are your child's drawing skills now?

There's no one to tell you that you're creating incorrect color combinations. If there's one thing that you're doing wrong, it could be your grip and the amount of control you exhibit. But that's fine because as you continue to work on your coloring skills, your fine motor and handwriting skills will improve as well. Color today!

Kid's Grief Work Journal with Journaling Tools Grief Work Journals are a recommended coping tool for exploring grief and the emotions behind it. This 3 month Deluxe Grief Work Journal features: - Daily Mood Tracker - Daily Entry Area - Thought Provoking Questions - Illustration Areas

What are these laboratory tools and how do you use them? Fuel your little scientist's imagination by using coloring to introduce the concept of a laboratory. Coloring is an activity that comes with many benefits, including the development of motor skills, the stimulation of creativity and the improvement of hand and eye coordination, too. Grab a copy now!

Remembering Mom is an adult coloring and activity book for those grieving their moms or mom figures. There are pages that allow you to write down memories of your mom, pages to express your love and loss, as well as some blank framed pages to personalize with pictures, notes or drawings. There are 24 pictures and pages to color. The illustrations are on one side of the page to minimize ink bleeding. There is a Remembering Dad counterpart book for those who lost their dads.

Elf coloring book full of holiday fun and Christmas cheer. These Holiday elves are preparing for Christmas and the holidays by decorating the tree, preparing Santa's sleigh and hanging tree ornaments. These Gnome elves are excited for Christmas. They are checking the list and helping St Nick with all of the Christmas preparations. These Elves and Gnomes are beautiful art illustrations for kids. This book will inspire your creative thinking. Buy a copy today! Special thanks to the illustrator Julie Tuft. Designs and ideas by Sadie Lewis.

Do you love holidays? Do you love the four seasons: Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter? Do you love to color? If you answered "yes", then you'll love Debbie's newest book, ZenHoliday. Color your favorite holidays and all four seasons. Includes Christmas, St. Patrick's Day, Thanksgiving, and Easter to name a few holidays. Fun coloring book for yourself or others. Great for ages 10 to 100!

Kids Grief Journal and Coloring Book Createspace Independent Publishing Platform

Relax, play and colour in the strange world which lives in the Doodle Monkey's head, whatever your age... In "The Weird Colouring Book for Kids of all ages", you will find detailed line art that is perfect for colouring in. Many intricate illustrations (some more complex than others), for you to colour and enjoy. Aliens, skateboarding dogs, weird creatures, animals, odd scenes and strange sayings are among the 50 stunning images found in this gorgeous colouring book that is perfect for children and adults alike.

Raise your children in a bilingual fashion with this dual language coloring book. Let your child travel through the exciting journey of Gulliver while learning two languages at the same time. This coloring book is a must for those wanting to raise their children in a bilingual fashion.

If your child has recently lost his Dog, first: our condolences, we understand the feelings of loss. Helping Your Child Cope: Like anyone dealing with the loss, kids usually feel a variety of emotions besides sadness after the death of a pet, They might experience loneliness, anger, or guilt when the death of their pet is sudden and unexpected. For children,

Tragic accidents such as being hit by a car or attacked by another animal, or a fatal stroke or euthanized or seizure out of the blue can be almost impossible to accept. Your pet's death maybe your children's first experience with loss and feelings of grief This experience presents an opportunity for you to teach your children to express grief in emotionally healthy ways, free of shame or embarrassment. The Therapeutic writing " Letter" This Letter allows your child after losing his Dog to express himself freely and safely, keep all his various heart feels and thoughts organized in one easy to find spot, It also provides him with the tools to explore within so that he can build his inner strength again, this type of writing is the most therapeutic as your child have the opportunity to speak out from the heart about what he wants to express, It can be especially helpful when the letter touches a sensitive issue. This journal includes: The actual letter: (Here is part of the letter) My Dear Dog, I want to Say - without you is... - Since you've been gone, I find it difficult to... - If you were here now... - My favorite thing we used to do together... - Ten words that best describe you... - If I could change one thing, it would be ... - This quote reminds me of you... - Ten Things I've learned about myself since you passed away... - In the last days, I have been feeling a lot of... Note: There are more pages that contain the rest of the letter, this list is just for illustration, it is incomplete. Let your child write about - What he wants to say to his dog, how he felt. - All the things he wishes be. - The plans he wishes and dreams to be doing with his dog. - The time he feels down or depressed for him to describe his struggles and heart hurts after the loss of his dog, and much more! ? Available This Journal For Adult (My Brave Dog, I Want To Say ...) Just Click on (S.H Linda Franco) And Choose Your Journal. Also, Grief Journal includes: - (Dog) Coloring Pages - The poetry: every time, your child has a lot of space to write a poem about his dog, there is also a poem written that he can draw inspiration from. - My Favourite memories with my dog: Use this place to write out his favorites memories with his dog. - Things that will always remind me of my dog: this section is dedicated to putting or writing all the beautiful things that will make him remember his dog always {Images - Songs - Food - Quotes - Jokes - And More}. At last, whether your child lost his dog now, or it's been some months ago, hopefully, some of the changes are eventual decreases in the intensity of painful feelings and longing and decreases in the length of time grief and feel overwhelming. everyone grieves differently and within their own timeframe, the low times aren't as low and don't last as long, As time passes and we grow, your child can also have new questions and insights about our losses which change the grief we experience, just let your child heart and his mind heal from this traumatic experience, and never judge himself in the healing process.

Looking for a way to have a conversation with your child or teen about the loss of a loved one or something special to them? Written by an expert in sociology and veteran educator, this book was created to assist children and teens in expressing themselves and reflecting on an unexpected traumatic life experience. This journal provides prompts, strategies, and tools to track emotions, and maybe helpful to children and teens who are going through counseling or talking with an adult about their feelings. Grief and loss are universal. Many situations can be devastating to children and teens, including: the death of a loved one; the deployment of a family member; the incarceration of a loved one; losing a home to a natural disaster; or the loss of a pet. This book can help children and teens sort out and come to terms with their varied emotions.

This goes out for all the future models and designers of the world. Make your baby girls' dreams unfold before their eyes at an early age and train them step by step in fashion with this princess dresses coloring book. You shouldn't be surprised if the next thing they do is draft designs better than seen in this book. Grab a copy now!

Has someone special died? This guided journal and colouring book includes prompts to explore feelings, capture memories and build resilience in the face of grief.

Contains lesson plans for 10 sessions that include age-appropriate activities. These fun and engaging activities enable young children to approach highly sensitive and painful topics.

A personal journal for children ages 7-11 that guides them through typical issues related to death. The child is prompted to write, color, or draw by leading statements. Suggestions for parents and counselors in assisting the child are included.

Avery's Garden, a 501c3 Nonprofit Organization in Illinois has joined arms with Lach's Legacy, a 501c3 Nonprofit Organization in South Dakota to honor children who passed away too soon due to SIDS and other sleep related deaths. Each family that is featured in this book came forward with inspiration for their children. Founder of Avery's Garden, Tara Denz then used the inspiration to draw coloring pages for each family that are now the pages within this book. There are 20 unique drawings symbolizing the lives of the children that have now passed on. There are also a wide variety of creative grieving prompts and tools that can be used by those effected by pregnancy and infant loss.

Why should your little one study anatomy? Because it's a prerequisite in life that body parts are identified, along with their uses. The purpose of this coloring book is to encourage understanding of anatomy while improving memory in every stroke. Coloring has the power to make that possible because it is a unique hands-on activity that creates imprints in the brain. Secure a copy now!

July is: INTERNATIONAL BEREAVED PARENTS [awareness] MONTH! Approximately 73,000 children under the age of 18 die each year in the US which makes hundreds of thousands of heartbroken families. Grieving children are often misunderstood and ignored in the aftermath of death. They need answers, but sometimes don't know how to ask the questions. Children need the truth in as much details as their age and comprehension can bear. They need reassurance about their own security. Just as adults benefit from writing through grief, same goes for children. Children too young to articulate their feelings into words may benefit from drawing and coloring. Life after losing a child looks different for everyone however there's one healing method that has proven to have profound effects; A grief journal. A grief journal records the experience of grief, which has therapeutic qualities. The journal provides a venue for expression without fear of judgment, which also helps reconstruct the personal self narrative, which is critical in the healing process. Some people say that writing through their grief was the only way they were able to cope after their child had died. Writing daily for approx. 15-20min. is all it takes to begin the healing process.

Whether you or someone you know has recently lost a child, or it was a while ago- the benefits of writing through the grief remain the same. This grief journal is part of a series titled: July is Bereaved Parents Month and is dedicated in loving memory to, Claire Alyse. There is never a footprint too small to leave an imprint on this world and at 5yrs young, Claire's were no exception. Grief Journal Details: 6x9- compact size fits in most bags and ideal for on-the-go 110 pages- lined Printing- Using the most up-to-date/current techniques, the cover is printed with a matte finish and the paper is superior quality with bleed resistant technology Cover Design- Created by the design team at BOLDconcepts. Committed to designing tasteful and unique low content (diaries, planners, journals and notebooks)books. Having a heart for people, their motto speaks to the integrity of the company: "publish for a purpose" Gifts for bereaved parents- grief journals (grief journaling) make great gifts for the bereaved. Don't forget the teens and kids! Grief journals for teens and grief journals for kids are included in the series collection! *Make sure the people you know who've lost a child that there are support groups for grieving parents and their families! The purpose of this collection of journals and notebooks is to create awareness! Raising awareness of the support necessary for parents who have experienced the death of a child. July is Bereaved Parents Awareness Month, a sad but important awareness month for grieving parents. Family/friend support can make a big difference. Do you know someone (a friend, co-worker, or family member) who has lost a child? Try to give them a helping hand. Sharing your love and support with them may help heal the wounded hearts of grieving parents. For the rest of this series and for other great titles, head over to the Amazon Author Page for Deena Cunningham and please, leave a review!

I will always remember you . . . Joanna Rowland's best-selling The Memory Box: A Book about Grief has helped thousands of children and families work through the complex emotions that arise after the loss of a loved one. Now, with The Memory Book, Rowland has created a beautiful grief journal to help readers put her methods into practice. The Memory Book helps grieving families process their emotions together by remembering their lost loved one and creating their own memory album full of photos and keepsakes of the person they lost. With gentle prompts and ideas for journaling, drawing, and talking through grief, this journal will bring comfort in the midst of loss and be a keepsake for families for years to come.

Angel Catcher for Kids offers a healthy way for a child to cope with the painful and often confusing process of grieving. Designed to help a child overcome the loss of a loved one, this journal also invites the child to record precious memories of the special person who has died. Angel Catcher for Kids will help a child to catch-and hold-an angel.

This coloring journal will give you a place to write about your reflections, memories and the path you are traveling in the Afterloss. Take some time for yourself on a regular basis to "work" in this book. Remember, there are no rules in coloring and no one will read your journal entries. So do what you do, feel what you feel, and if you color outside the lines because it suits your mood ~ good for you! Inside you will find stress-relieving and creativity-expanding coloring pages plus personal development support via journaling prompts and links to grief healing audios. Used together, these inner and outer tools help you access your own inner guidance ~ while having fun and creating inspiring works of art.

This unique multi-media coloring journal book blends a full spectrum of creative learning styles designed to activate brain balance ~ visual (seeing), auditory (listening), kinesthetic (coloring, writing), left brain (listing, planning, journaling), right brain (coloring, doodling, visualizing).

We hope it gives you insight and peace. Learn about our other Coloring Journals for Healthy Living at ColoringJournalsforHealthyLiving.com Gloom is an interactive journal to help kids understand loss and cope with death. Through different fill-in activities, coloring pages, and rituals, kids will be able to express and understand what they're feeling through the grieving process. Understanding feelings is very important to have a healthy grieving process and be able to accept a loss.

Catch and color these turkeys for your Thanksgiving feast! You don't have to stick to the usual colors because you can even have green, pink or multi-colored turkeys if you want. That's the beauty of coloring. It is non-restrictive and highly imaginative. Let's see what colors you come up with. Begin today!

Can you imagine the sound of hooves telling you to stop working, come out and play? Coloring is a form of imaginative play. You use your imagination to conjure worlds and then you use your skills and creativity to transfer those worlds into sheets of paper. It's fun brain game that you can do without leaving your home or office. Do some coloring today!

Begin to heal from loss with more than 40 soothing designs Whether you are experiencing a significant loss, depression, anxiety, or another profound challenge, healing takes time and is often a multi-step process. That's why grief counselor Deborah Derman created Colors of Loss and Healing, an adult coloring book that combines beautiful drawings with inspirational words to help you quiet your mind and contemplate your journey toward healing. With additional journal pages to express your thoughts and feelings as they arise, Colors of Loss and Healing provides guided meditation and a quiet contemplative activity to help you work through and heal from your personal grief.

Coloring is a widely recommended activity for young children because of the many benefits that it brings. It is a method for effective self-expression because not all kids have mastered the power of words just yet. So pay close attention to how your child colors. Look at the hues he/she selects and the intensity of each stroke. What is your child trying to tell you?

Do you know a child who has faced a deep loss, such as the death of a parent, sibling or grandparent? Are you looking for a way to help them sort out their thoughts and emotions? My Grief Journey: Coloring Book and Journal for Kids is for any age (including adult "kids") who are learning how to live after the death of someone dearly loved and deeply missed. It is different from all the other coloring books out there. Each coloring page has a word surrounded by beautiful artwork which is intentionally hand drawn. Each word has two pages to help the child think about and explore a specific word or emotion (such as helpless, fear, memories, hope, comfort, truth, thankful, etc.) through coloring, drawing and writing. The coloring page has a scroll with a "prompt," to help them get started in thinking how they might feel about something. The prompt can be answered inside the scroll by either writing or drawing. We have also included an extra page for each word to allow more room for drawing or writing. On the page opposite the picture, you will find where award-winning author, Laura Diehl, shares her own thoughts, intertwined with what God has shown her about that word, along with a bible verse. Laura was an international children's minister and trainer for many years. This book is a simplified version of My Grief Journey: Coloring Book and Journal for Grieving Parents, using twenty-nine of the forty-two words (and adding one word not in the adult book). This was done intentionally, so that a parent and child can do many of the pages together if there has been a sibling loss for the child.

July is: INTERNATIONAL BEREAVED PARENTS [awareness] MONTH! Approximately 73,000 children under the age of 18 die each year in the US which makes hundreds of thousands of heartbroken parents. Grieving children are often misunderstood and ignored in the aftermath of death. They need answers, but sometimes don't know how to ask the questions. Children need the truth in as much details as their age and comprehension can bear. They need reassurance about their own security. Just as adults benefit from writing through grief, same goes for children. Children too young to articulate their feelings into words may benefit from drawing and coloring. Life after losing a child looks different for everyone however there's one healing method that has proven to have profound effects; A grief journal. A grief journal records the experience of grief, which has therapeutic qualities. The journal provides a venue for expression without fear of judgment, which also helps reconstruct the personal self narrative, which is critical in the healing process. Some people say that writing through their grief was the only way they were able to cope after their child had died. Writing daily for approx. 15-20min. is all it takes to begin the healing process.

Whether you or someone you know has recently lost a child, or it was a while ago- the benefits of writing through the grief remain the same. This grief journal is part of a series titled: July is Bereaved Parents Month and is dedicated in loving memory to, Claire Alyse. There is never a footprint too small to leave an imprint on this world and at 5yrs young, Claire's were no exception. Grief Journal Details: 6x9- compact size fits in most bags and ideal for on-the-go 110 pages- lined Printing- Using the most up-to-date/current techniques, the cover is printed with a matte finish and the paper is superior quality with bleed resistant technology Cover Design- Created by the design team at BOLDconcepts. Committed to designing tasteful and unique low content (diaries, planners, journals and notebooks)books. Having a heart for people, their motto speaks to the integrity of the company: "publish for a purpose" Gifts for bereaved parents- grief journals (grief journaling) make great gifts for the bereaved. Don't forget the teens and kids! Grief journals for teens and grief journals for kids are included in the series collection! *Make sure the people you know who've lost a child that there are support groups for grieving parents and their families! The purpose of this collection of journals and notebooks is to create awareness! Raising awareness of the support necessary for parents who have experienced the death of a child. July is Bereaved Parents Awareness Month, a sad but important awareness month for grieving parents. Family/friend support can make a big difference. Do you know someone (a friend, co-worker, or family member) who has lost a child? Try to give them a helping hand. Sharing your love and support with them may help heal the wounded hearts of grieving parents. For the rest of this series and for other great titles, head over to the Amazon Author Page for Deena Cunningham and please, leave a review!

Stimulate your child's creativity by working on this coloring book! Coloring gives him/her the chance to bring out his/her creative side because it is an open form of expression. A child would create an imaginary world and then use that to create art on paper. Don't fret too much if your child colors outside the lines. He/she will only improve with more practice and coloring pages!

Copyright: 680051ad3eb88b7f5f28a12ab835a18c