Francophile Karen Eberwein had always dreamed of becoming fluent in French. She realized that the perfect way to learn is total immersion - in a small village in the Dordogne Valley. So she packs a bag, rents a rustic stone cottage, and spends nearly a year in Cenac-et-Saint-Julien, France. Karen refuses to speak English, vows to speak to anyone who is willing to talk to her, religiously carries a French dictionary, and retains a light-hearted, playful approach to learning the language. She has carefully chosen a village not dominated by tourism, arrived in December, and in a surprisingly short amount of time, the local people befriend her. Claire, her fast-talking neighbor, invites her to dinner (when it is customary to know someone for years before welcoming them inside your home) and to the 31st Exposition Nationale d'Aviculture, where Claire is showing her pigeons. The elderly man down the hill, Jean-Paul, asks Karen along on a truffle hunting adventure, a visit to a hidden, ancient walnut mill, and accompanies her to the local Occitan festival, where he shares childhood and wartime memories. The local baker invites Karen to observe a typical day at the bakery, starting at 3:00 am., to see how the breads and croissants are made. Not to be outdone, the chef at the local restaurant teaches Karen how to make the traditional Garlic Soup in time to serve it to a crowd of locals for lunch. In the process of learning a language, she becomes part of a wonderful French village. Locals who first acknowledged her with a nod, then a handshake, now greet her warmly with kisses on both cheeks. She has gained much more than a language

It's true that some people spend years studying Spanish before they finally get around to speaking the language. But here's a better idea. Skip the years of study and jump right to the speaking part. Sound crazy? No, it's language hacking. Unlike most traditional language courses that try to teach you the rules of Spanish, #LanguageHacking shows you how to learn and speak Italian through proven memory techniques, unconventional shortcuts and conversation strategies perfected by one of the world's greatest language learners, Benny Lewis, aka the Irish Polyglot. Using the language hacks -shortcuts that make learning simple - that Benny mastered while learning his 11 languages and his 'speak from the start' method, you will crack the language code and exponentially increase your language abilities so that you can get fluent faster. It's not magic. It's not a language gene. It's not something only "other people" can do. It's about being smart with how you learn, learning what's indispensable, skipping what's not, and using what you've learned to have real conversations in Spanish from day one. The Method #LanguageHacking takes a modern approach to language learning, blending the power of online social collaboration with traditional methods. It focuses on the conversations that learners need to master right away, rather than presenting language in order of difficulty like most courses. This means that you can have conversations immediately, not after years of study. Each of the 10 units culminates with a speaking 'mission' that prepares you to use the language you've learned to talk about yourself. Through the language hacker online learner community, you can share your personalized speaking 'missions' with other learners - getting and giving feedback and extending your learning beyond the pages of the book . You don't need to go abroad to learn a language any more.

Do you want to learn how to +1000 common phrases to improve your Spanish in 7 days? If yes, then keep reading... Learning a foreign language is not an easy task, and it will take a considerable commitment from you to become even somewhat proficient in Spanish. Some studies suggest that communicating in another language comes after a few years of arduous research, while others claim that under the right conditions, it can be picked up much sooner. However, any individual who intends to become fluent in a foreign language will genuinely have to work for it. To keep such a commitment, specific measures need to be taken. The most notable involves scheduling, which means that you must organize your daily activities so that they include some Spanish study and practice time. Besides programming, another step you can take is to work on your self-motivation. This involves rewarding yourself for any language learning successes or accomplishments. This may mean eating your favorite meal after completing a tough Spanish homework assignment or perhaps buying something you'd like if you score high on a test. Since it takes years to develop excellent communication skills, you will need family, maybe teachers or friends to encourage you along the way. You can also benefit from the help of a personal tutor or an enthusiastic group of fellow learners to overcome barriers to fluency. Securing loyal supporters is an essential key to become better in Spanish. Another secret to staying committed is making sure you know exactly what your ultimate goal is. Though you may take measures to stay on course, questions about your final objective might remain. "What will I do with the Spanish I'm learning?" "How far do I plan to go?" "Why am I learning Spanish, anyway?" These are all legitimate concerns that help determine one's commitment level. Once you know what you are shooting for, the job will become a lot less stressful. Also, be sure to ask yourself how much you enjoy the Spanish language. People need to like the language they are learning and at least some aspects of their culture if they plan on studying it for a while.
