character is Bo Bo, who is a blue and yellow teddy bear. He has three main friends, they all live in brightly coloured beach huts on the beach. Bo Bo lives in number 1, which is red. Next door lives Bella Bunny, a little blue bunny, who is very neat and tidy and is always wearing her little frilly apron. Her beach hut is blue and is number 2. Then there is Basil Bear, a green teddy bear, who lives in a green beach hut, number 3. He loves growing vegetables and flowers. Then there is Molly the Dolly, a cute ragdoll. She lives in number 4 which is pink, she likes home cooking. The ideas for the books are from childhood memories, cuddly toys my sisters and I had when we were young and the fun we had playing with them and taking them on holiday with us. Bo Bo was a teddy bear my younger sister had when she was two for Christmas - he was bigger than her. The first thing she said when she opened him Christmas morning was "Bo Bo!" She still has him to this day, he is now 46 years old! And is loved and cherished by her own children. The books contain traditional values, for example, growing fresh healthy food, home cooking, keeping clean and exercising, but also having fun and discovering new things. The books were a joy to write and will inspire any young child who is introduced to them.

Interpreting Agriculture in Museums and Historic Sites orients readers to major themes in agriculture and techniques in education and interpretation that can help you develop humanities-based public programming that enhance agricultural literacy. Case studies illustrate the ways that local research can help you link your history organization to compelling local, national (even international) stories focused on the multidisciplinary topic. That ordinary plow, pitch fork, and butter paddle can provide the tangible evidence of the story worth telling, even if the farm land has disappeared into subdivisions and agriculture seems as remote as the nineteenth century.
