Cassandra is haunted by the death of Mariz Sanchez, an author she exposed as a fraud. He committed suicide after extensive media exposure. Mariz' ghost has taken up residence in Cassandra's Santa Monica home and he is demanding she follows him. Into death or out of the house? She doesn't know, and the more she drinks the less sense she is making of the situation. Maybe death is her punishment. Dying would be easier than confronting the ghost, the evil of the darkness and her emotional upheaval. Some people say there are some things worse than death and to a writer, the cliché always raises the hackles.

Cassandra has seen death and what she sees would even make God shudder. With a bottle of whisky in one hand and her medications in the other she decides to survive. If she doesn't die first, of course. Do You Want to Live Forever? takes place in a world of Goths, strip clubs, bars and an apartment so void of light it makes the dark of night gleam. Welcome to Cassandra's world.

K. C. Das is deservedly one of the most celebrated writers in India today. He writes primarily in Oriya, the language of his native state of Orissa, where he was born in 1924. A civil servant by profession, Das pursued a second career as a writer of stories, poems, and essays. The stories in this collection take place in an urban setting. The characters are mainly middle class, making them more accessible to North American readers than other examples of contemporary Indian fiction. These are not simple stories. They are about "divides," about gaps between realities and imagination. In complex shifts between direct dialogue, interior monologue, and interior or imagined dialogue, Das lovingly but mercilessly exposes his characters' thoughts, self-deceptions, and the games they play with each other. These are stories about human weaknesses, the fallibility of human relationships, and the strategies we adopt to cope with our failures. They are about coming to terms with unpleasant, sometimes shocking truths about ourselves and others.

"You're still the most beautiful woman I've ever seen," Ja'Rome said to me standing tall and confident like he always did. A glass of Champagne in his hands and those beautiful dimples in his cheeks. All of those same feelings came back to me, or just that they never left. The memories of making love in his office, traveling to Madagascar just to get away from the madness. I miss him more than he'll ever know. It's been 2 years since A'oleon and Ja'Rome have seen each other. Their love set the bar high in this family about what honesty and truth really meant but that still didn't stop the Mafia from breaking them up and leaving both heartbroken. Naomi Vasca puts herself in the middle of another dangerous love affair, one that she shouldn't stick her nose into. With her father knowing everything she's done, he cuts ties with her but only for a moment of honesty. With the Kenyan Mafia on her side, she's forced to make a choice. Will she succeed in breaking up the couple she envies, or will she fall trying? A love story so pure that even Doves would be jealous. There is nothing sexier than a man who loves the woman he's with. Embraces her, supports her, loves her and most of all? Shows her off to the world. Ja'Rome Okawmmay is many things, but a cheater isn't one of them.

Now, as Melanie digs for clues deep under Connecticut's well-groomed surface, she finds
