"Growth and new developments in project management continue to accelerate in our society, in practice, and in our research publications. Beyond the attention previously (and still) paid to project management, program management, project portfolios, project maturity, project management offices (PMOs), Agile, and other such project issues, we are now seeing attention also directed to billion-dollar "mega-projects", inter-organizational project management, project governance, strategic projects, benefit realization, the duties of the project sponsor, the meaning of executive commitment, and other such issues. Projects are getting much more sophisticated and complex, involving multiple organizations and billions of dollars. And even though our knowledge of how to successfully execute standard projects has resulted in much better success rates in practice, the rates of success for less traditional projects, such as strategic and multi-organizational projects, are still poor. Part of the reason for this is just now becoming clear-- that "projects", as we've known them, are only the middle portion of a set of activities involving the recognition of a need, the selection of a project to meet it, designing a governance structure for the project, executing the project, and the tasks needed to ensureing the benefits of the project are realized. These ancillary activities are now also being heavily focused on and we hope to thereby see better success rates for our these strategic and more complex projects."--

I know, because although I have been working as an Oracle PM for many years, I have myself recently certified with the latest version of the Certification test. Before you start here are some Key features of the Certification Exam. This certification exam verifies that the candidate has the knowledge required in the area of Project Lifecycle Management (PLM) This certificate builds on basic consultant skills and experience that is then refined by practical experience during several projects. Candidates must also demonstrate understanding of how to use Oracle Unified Method, Apply the method Principles (Guiding Method Principles, Manage work/risk/scope, Organizational Change, Manage Iterations) and Manage the Focus areas (Concepts/Principles/Structure/Components). The exam is Computer based and you have 120 minutes to answer 70 Questions. The Questions are (mostly) multiple choice type and there is NO penalty for an incorrect answer. Some of the Questions have more than one correct answer. You must get ALL the options correct for you to be awarded points. For questions with a single answer, the answers will have a button next to them. You will be able to select only one button. For questions with multiple answers, the answers will have a 'tick box' next to them. This allows you to select multiple answers. You are not allowed to use any reference materials during the certification test (no access to online documentation or to any Oracle system). Clearing the Certification will not automatically lead you to a job. However a Certification with some project experience will certainly open a lot of doors for you.
