The first biography of visionary artist Agnes Martin, one of the most original and influential painters of the postwar period Over the course of a career that spanned fifty years, Agnes Martin's austere, serene work anticipated and helped to define Minimalism, even as she battled psychological crises and carved out a solitary existence in the American Southwest. Martin identified with the Abstract Expressionists but her commitment to linear geometry caused her to be associated in turn with Minimalist, feminist, and even outsider artists. She moved through some of the liveliest art communities of her time while maintaining a legendary reserve. "I paint with my back to the world," she says both at the beginning and at the conclusion of a documentary filmed when she was in her late eighties. When she died at ninety-two, in Taos, New Mexico, it is said she had not read a newspaper in half a century. No substantial critical monograph exists on this acclaimed artist—the recipient of two career retrospectives as well as the National Medal of the Arts—who was championed by critics as diverse in their approaches as Lucy Lippard, Lawrence Alloway, and Rosalind Krauss. Furthermore, no attempt has been made to describe her extraordinary life. The whole engrossing story, told here for the first time, Agnes Martin is essential reading for anyone interested in abstract art or the history of women artists in America.

This e-book details the most interesting and important characteristics of the automobiles, car maintenance, styling features, car body style, the standard classification of the cars, an history of the automobiles, introduction in the automotive industry, and the traffic code, rules and signs. An automobile, usually called a car (an old word for carriage) or a truck, is a wheeled vehicle that carries its own engine. Older terms include horseless carriage and motor car, with "motor" referring to what is now usually called the engine. It has seats for the driver and, almost without exception, for at least one passenger. The automobile was hailed as an environmental improvement over horses when it was first introduced. Before its introduction, in New York City, over 10,000 tons of manure had to be removed from the streets daily. However, in 2006 the automobile is one of the primary sources of worldwide air pollution and cause of substantial noise and health effects.

This manual has been written for the practical owner who wants to maintain a vehicle in first class condition and carry out the bulk of his or her servicing and repairs. Brief, easy to follow instructions are given, plus many diagrams and illustrations.

Renita se prépara à recevoir Brett O'Connor dans son bureau. « Tu n'es pas du tout mon genre »... les paroles blessantes de Brett, du temps de leur adolescence, résonnaient encore dans son esprit. A cette époque, elle était la bonne copine, la bonne élève, la petite ronde à lunettes. Pourtant, elle avait osé rêver qu'il accepterait de l'accompagner au bal du lycée. Bien mal lui en avait pris... Mais aujourd'hui, la donne était différente : elle était une femme, et c'était lui qui avait quelque chose à lui demander. Les rôles s'inversaient. Comment cette rencontre imminente allait-elle se passer ? Brett aurait-il changé ? La trouverait-il changée, elle ? En mieux ? En tout cas, à quelques minutes de leurs retrouvailles, une chose était sûre : le cœur de Renita battait très fort, et elle était déjà tirillée entre l'attirance qu'elle sentait renaître malgré elle, et un terrible désir de revanche...

Poetry. "I am spending my 39th year practicing uncreativity. On Friday, September 1, 2000, I began retyping the day's NEW YORK TIMES word for word, letter for letter, from the upper left hand corner to the lower right hand corner, page by page." With these words, Kenneth Goldsmith embarked upon a project which he termed "uncreative writing", that is: uncreativity as a constraint-based process; uncreativity as a creative practice. By typing page upon page, making no distinction between article, editorial and advertisement, disregarding all typographic and graphical treatments, Goldsmith levels the daily newspaper. DAY is a monument to the ephemeral, comprised of yesterday's news, a fleeting moment concretized, captured, then reframed into the discourse of literature. "When I reach 40, I hope to have cleansed myself of all creativity"-Kenneth Goldsmith.
