They don't know what to say or what to do. Professional Network Marketers have a plan. They know it takes skills for reaching professionals. But it takes better words for implementing the skills. Instead of running off at the mouth with words that don't work, let's speak with words that do work. Instead of leaving a trail of dead bodies behind us, let's reenergize them with trained words. We can look professional. We can speak professional. We can be professional. We can build a massive downline with better skills. We can make our upline proud by the skills we learn. Instead of spending hours a day on a social network such as Facebook, spend an hour a day on LinkedIn. Let's build a team on LinkedIn. Let's make your upline proud you've built a team on LinkedIn. Scientific marketing research delivers proven marketing tactics and tips The Science of Marketing applies a scientific approach to the way businesses and brands approach marketing. It uses a combination of marketing, statistical, and psychological research to explain why and, more importantly, how, companies should adapt marketing strategies such as blogging, social media, email marketing, and webinars to achieve maximum results. The book contradicts what the author calls the "unicorns and rainbows" strategy that simply encourages companies to love their customers and hug their followers. Instead, the book offers more substantial, proven tactics and tips gathered through scientific research and techniques. Lists what time of day and what day of the week the most retweets occur Explains why weekends are best for Facebook sharing, which blog posts lead to comments, why early mornings are best for emails, and how to blog to acquire links Describes how to avoid crowding your content The Science of Marketing provides the research and tools to help you make a stronger impact in the digital marketing space.

The author was so kind as to give suggestions to different websites that one could use for the menagerie that it marketing, also I did not know that some of the biggest social networking sites had built in schedulers to schedule your posts. I have always used Hootsuite, which she also mentions. The chapter titled "Skills to Work On" was really helpful and brought together things and skills I never thought of or never thought of as important.
