Physiology Question-Based Learning Hwee Ming Cheng, 2016-07-06 This book provides the reader with a range of questions and explanations related to essential aspects of the neural, hormonal and gastrointestinal physiology. The focus of the book is on understanding the homeostatic control in each system by using questions to challenge the reader to think through physiology. In addition, functional integration of the different organ systems is highlighted in an area such as neuroendocrinology and in the study of the neural mechanisms in the gastrointestinal tract. This is the second Physiology Question-Based Learning book, written by Prof. Dr. Cheng. He has taught physiology for thirty years. He has pioneered the international physiology quiz, which is now an annual event at the University of Malaya in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia and at universities around the world. As quiz master, he has designed challenging questions to test concepts and understanding in physiology. This book reflects the style of questions asked during the physiology quiz. The questions are designed to stimulate integrative and homeostatic thinking in physiology. The Physiology Question-Based Learning books will be helpful to all students of Physiology in medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and allied health sciences. Neurobiochemistry B. Hamprecht,V. Neuhoff,2011-11-17 The field of the neurosciences is one of the most rapidly growing in present biological research. Its molecular aspects are dealt with by the discipline of neurobiochemistry. As the theme of the Mosbacher Colloquium, we chose this term rather than the term neurochemistry, in order to stress the dynamic biochemical aspects of present molecular neurobiology and to avoid the flavor of being purely descriptive and static, which is frequently associated with the term neurochemistry. This appears the more warranted, since the natural products and analytical chemistry phase of discovering the basic chemical components of the nervous system has passed its culmination. The period of assessment has laid the foundation for studying the dynamic interplay of the various chemical components in the actual biological operation of nervous tissue. Thus, neurobiochemistry is that part of the neurosciences which is dominated by the ways of thinking and the methodology of biochemistry. For this Colloquium only topics were selected that deal with the biochemistry of neurons. Thus, we excluded from the agenda other neural cells such as glial cells (astrocytes, ependymal cells, oligodendrocytes), meningeal cells, and capillary endothelial cells. This restriction was applied for two reasons: (1) The time available for the meeting did not allow an extensive display of the whole spectrum of neurobiochemical research. (2) The biochemistry of neurons is far more advanced than that of any other cell type of the nervous system •.
