This is the first history of dictionaries of English for foreign learners, from their beginnings in Japan and East Asia in the 1920s to the present day. Anthony Cowie describes the evolution of the major titles, and their fight for dominance of what soon became an enormous market. He shows how developments in lexical and grammatical theory crucially affected the content and structure of ELT dictionaries.

The popular Quaker author, Margaret Hope Bacon, tells the story of her years as a worker at Springfield State Hospital, a mental hospital located in Sykesville, Maryland. Her husband Allen had been assigned there as a conscientious objector to the war. This story is of Margaret and her difficulties with the hospital staff and the profound relationship she builds with one of the patients.
