The IBR, published again since 1971 as an interdisciplinary, international bibliography of reviews, offers book reviews of literature dealing primarily with the humanities and social sciences published in 6,000 mainly European scholarly journals. This unique bibliography contains over 1.3 millions book reviews. 60,000 entries are added every year with details on the work reviewed and the review.

The WHO Guidelines on Hand Hygiene in Health Care provide health-care workers (HCWs), hospital administrators and health authorities with a thorough review of evidence on hand hygiene in health care and specific recommendations to improve practices and reduce transmission of pathogenic microorganisms to patients and HCWs. The present Guidelines are intended to be implemented in any situation in which health care is delivered either to a patient or to a specific group in a population. Therefore, this concept applies to all settings where health care is permanently or occasionally performed, such as home care by birth attendants. Definitions of health-care settings are proposed in Appendix 1. These Guidelines and the associated WHO Multimodal Hand Hygiene Improvement Strategy and an Implementation Toolkit (<http://www.who.int/gpsc/en/>) are designed to offer health-care facilities in Member States a conceptual framework and practical tools for the application of recommendations in practice at the bedside. While ensuring consistency with the Guidelines recommendations, individual adaptation according to local regulations, settings, needs,

In presenting, for the first time, to English readers the greatest work of Germany's greatest mediæval poet, a few words of introduction, alike for poem and writer, may not be out of place. The lapse of nearly seven hundred years, and the changes which the centuries have worked, alike in language and in thought, would have naturally operated to render any work unfamiliar, still more so when that work was composed in a foreign tongue; but, indeed, it is only within the present century that the original text of the Parzival has been collated from the MSS. and made accessible, even in its own land, to the general reader. But the interest which is now felt by many in the Arthurian romances, quickened into life doubtless by the genius of the late Poet Laureate, and the fact that the greatest composer of our time, Richard Wagner, has selected this poem as the groundwork of that wonderful drama, which a growing consensus of opinion has hailed as the grandest artistic achievement of this century, seem to indicate that the time has come when the work of Wolfram von Eschenbach may hope to receive, from a wider public than that of his own day, the recognition which it so well deserves. Of the poet himself we know but little, save from the personal allusions scattered throughout his works; the dates of his birth and death are alike unrecorded, but the frequent notices of contemporary events to be found in his poems enable us to fix with tolerable certainty the period of his literary activity, and to judge approximately the outline of his life. Wolfram's greatest work, the Parzival, was apparently written within the early years of the thirteenth century; he makes constant allusions to events happening, and to works produced, within the first decade of that period; and as his latest work, the Willehalm, left unfinished, mentions as recent the death of the Landgrave Herman of Thuringia, which occurred in 1216, the probability seems to be that the Parzival was written within the first fifteen years of the thirteenth century. Inasmuch, too, as this work bears no traces of immaturity in thought or style, it is probable that the date of the poet's birth cannot be

"That Person's Work" has developed out of Matt Mullican's hypnosis performances and photography, drawing and object making that he has created during a trance state. This is an idea book made by 'that person' and contains over 700 pages of drawings and collages. It also contains an interview between Matt Mullican and a practitioner of hypnosis.

Synthesizing coverage of sensation and reward into a comprehensive systems overview, Neurobiology of Sensation and Reward presents a cutting-edge and multidisciplinary approach to the interplay of sensory and reward processing in the brain. While over the past 70 years these areas have drifted apart, this book makes a case for reuniting sensation and reward by highlighting the important links and interface between the two.

Emphasizing the role of reward in reinforcing behaviors, the book begins with an exploration of the history, ecology, and evolution of sensation and reward.

Progressing through the five senses, contributors explore how the brain extracts information from sensory cues.

The chapter authors examine how different animal species predict rewards, thereby integrating sensation and reward in learning, focusing on effects in anatomy, physiology, and behavior. Drawing on empirical research, contributors build on the themes of the book to present insights into the human sensory rewards of perfume, art, and music, setting the scene for further cross-disciplinary collaborations that bridge the neurobiological interface between sensation and reward. Il profumo di Cipro è un percorso di ricerca sulla famiglia olfattiva legata al mito del fascino femminile che il “mondo occidentale” identificò nella divinità greca di Afrodite. La trasposizione del culto nella Venere italica definisce l'importanza del rito nel nome, che diventa sinonimo di atto di fede verso qualsiasi divinità. Il ruolo di Cipro nella storia del profumo è riassunto nel nome riconosciuto in una delle sette famiglie olfattive del mondo, lo stesso dato alla Cipria, cosmetico sopravvissuto al crollo dell'Impero Romano, noto in Europa come pulveri Ciprii. La scoperta delle officine di Pyrgos riporta al 2000 a.C. la produzione di questa proverbiale fragranza e il culto della divinità nella quale fu identificata. MARIA ROSARIA BELGIORNO è ricercatore associato presso l'ITABC-CNR, Ispettore Onorario MiBACT del Museo Preistorico L. Pigorini, Roma, presidente Ass. Cult. Armonia, Roma. Dal 1998 è responsabile delle indagini archeologiche e archeometriche sul sito preistorico di Pyrgos/Mavroraki a Cipro.

This companion to the Classical Quarterly contains reviews of new work dealing with the literatures and civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome. Over 300 books are reviewed each year.

Il mio nome è Goran Dokovi? ed ero un ubica e un komandir fino a quando lei non ha sconvolto la mia vita. La desidero e la temo. Ho bisogno di lei come se fosse il mio ossigeno e la odio per questo, ma quando la guardo tutto cambia. Il suo calore scalda la mia anima nera e fa sembrare tutto possibile. Una nuova regola ha preso forma nella mia mente, sovrastando ogni cosa. Proteggi. Questo è ciò che urla ogni fibra del mio essere, ma non posso rinnegare la mia natura. È arrivato il momento di scegliere: salvare Elektra o me stesso? Il mio nome è Elektra. Del mio cognome non voglio saperne nulla. Lo odio, così come odio la famiglia cui appartengo. La felicità mi ha sfiorata, ma il destino ha giocato la sua mano contro di me. Il mio cuore sanguina. La rabbia arde tanto quanto il desiderio, infiammandomi. Goran rappresenta tutto ciò che di giusto e sbagliato esiste. Separare l'uomo dal mostro è impossibile perché, proprio come luce e buio, non esiste l'uno senza l'altro. Potrò mai accettarli entrambi senza rinnegare me stessa? Tutto ebbe inizio con un cuore spezzato. Tutto ebbe fine con un sacrificio d'amore. ***Attenzione: Il testo contiene scene di sesso esplicite, se ne consiglia quindi la lettura a un pubblico adulto e consapevole. Il romanzo è il secondo e ultimo volume della "Your Darkest Desire".*** Altri libri dell'autrice: - E se non fosse uno sbaglio? - Profumo di iris (Entrambi auto-conclusivi. Edward C. Moore (1827–1891) was the creative leader who brought Tiffany & Co. to unparalleled originality and success during the late nineteenth century. A silversmith, designer, and prodigious collector, Moore sought out exceptional objects from around the world, which he then used as inspiration for Tiffany's innovative silver designs. This informative, richly illustrated volume, the first study of Moore's life, collection, and influence, presents more than 170 examples from his vast collection, ranging from Greek and Roman glass to Spanish vases, Islamic metalwork, and Japanese textiles. These are juxtaposed with sixty magnificent silver objects created by the designers and artisans at Tiffany who were inspired by Moore's acquisitions. Included among them are the world-famous Bryant Vase drawing upon Greek examples, a love cup featuring ornate "Saracenic" decoration, and a chocolate pot incorporating novel techniques influenced by Japanese ceramics and lacquerware. The illuminating texts have been enriched by groundbreaking research into contemporary sources such as newspapers and periodicals, the Tiffany & Co. Archives, and a newly identified technical manual and supervisor's diaries, all of which provide an intimate look at the firm's design processes and Moore's role in shaping them. A valuable contribution to the history of American decorative arts, Collecting Inspiration illuminates both the legendary Tiffany aesthetic and the legacy of a significant collector, designer, and entrepreneur of the Gilded Age.

montagna del potere fin quasi a raggiungerne l'apice. Ho portato a termine ogni incarico affidatomi e ora, davanti a me, ho quello più importante. Le mie regole sono semplici. Esegui. Conquista. Resisti. Vinci. Le ho sempre seguite con gelida precisione e credevo di avere tutto sotto controllo, fino a che i miei occhi hanno incrociato delle iridi fiere dal colore di piombo. Lei. Una luce nell'oscurità. Una pistola puntata alla mia tempia. L'ambizione e la voglia di riscatto si scontrano con il più oscuro e sbagliato dei desideri, ma io so cosa devo fare. E lo farò. Senza indugio. Il mio nome è Elektra. Del mio cognome importa più agli altri che a me. La vita mi ha messo alla prova tante di quelle volte che ho perso il conto, ma mai come adesso. Ogni mia convinzione si è sgretolata nel momento in cui ho capito che, la mia esistenza così come la conoscevo, non esiste più. Tutto mi è estraneo, non ho punti di riferimento... ma ho lui. Il mio angelo custode. Il mio demone tentatore. Un uomo tanto pericoloso quanto magnetico tra le cui braccia mi sento sicura. La brama che risveglia in me è sbagliata, inopportuna, afrodisiaca. Fidarmi di lui sarà la cosa giusta da fare o mi condannerà a qualcosa di irreparabile? Tutto ebbe inizio con il sangue e la paura. Tutto ebbe fine con un animo infranto. ***Attenzione: Il testo contiene scene di sesso esplicite, se ne consiglia quindi la lettura a un pubblico adulto e consapevole. This meticulously researched compendium provides every aspect of growing, identifying, harvesting, preserving, and using more than 500 species of herbs. Thorough profiles provide a plant's botanical name and family, whether it is an annual or perennial, its height, hardiness, light requirements, water consumption, required soil type, and pH. The often fascinating history of the plant, the chemistry of its essential oils, and its culinary, landscape, and craft uses are also included, as is advice on how to propagate. For the first edition of their work, both authors received The Gertrude B. Foster Award for Excellence in Herbal Literature from the Herb Society of America. This new edition adds important species and includes updated nomenclature.

The quality of human life has been maintained and enhanced for generations by the use of trees and their products. In recent years, ever rising human population growth has put tremendous pressure on trees and tree products; growing awareness of the potential of previously unexploited tree resources and environmental pollution have both accelerated development of new technologies for tree propagation, breeding and improvement. Biotechnology of trees may be the answer to solve the problems which cannot be solved by conventional breeding methods. The combination of biotechnology and conventional methods such as plant propagation and breeding may be a novel approach to improving and multiplying in large number the trees and woody plants. So far, plant tissue culture technology has largely been exploited in the propagation of ornamental plants, especially foliage house plants, by commercial companies. Generally, tissue culture of woody plants has been recalcitrant. However, limited success has been achieved in tissue culture of angiosperm and gymnosperm woody plants. A number of recent reports on somatic embryogenesis in woody plants such as Norway spruce (Picea abies), Loblolly pine (Pinus taeda), Sandalwood (Santalum album), Citrus, Mango (Mangifera indica), etc. , offer a ray of hope of: a) inexpensive clonal propagation for large-scale production of plants or "emblings" or "somatic embryo plants", b) protoplast work, c) cryopreservation, d) genetic transformation, and e) artificial or manufactured seed production.
