reference to active drug/medication pages. This book includes numbered pages to record patient drug/medication administration, including transfers to and from other books / pages. The back side of each of these page contains a section to document transferring, surrendering, and discontinuing the medications. The Shift Count pages document the accuracy of the drug/medication counts. NOTE: This book does not contain an "Emergency Drug/Medication Supply" (EDK - Emergency Drug Kit) section. - - - - - Number and Letter Codes - - - - - Some of our record books have numbers and letters and some do not. Understanding the codes will ensure that you get the record book that is best suited for your needs. The record books that do not have numbers or letters are the original record books. Those with numbers are different variations of the originals, based upon customer input / feedback. For example, the record book title that ends with 2 is the second version of that particular book. The interior pages of each version of the books are formatted differently to facilitate specific needs. Record books with letters at the end of the title (i.e. an M or S) indicate the size relative to the original record book. For example, an M indicates Mid sized and contains 2/3 the number of pages, while an S indicates Slim sized, which contains 1/3 the number of pages of the original. For Example a title of Controlled Substance Record Book (without any numbers or letters) would indicate the original record book with the most pages. A title of Controlled Substance Record Book 2M would indicate the second version, mid-sized book with 2/3 as many pages as the original size. Please review each version / variation to find the one that best suits your needs. Then decide on the number of pages you need and choose the original (no letters), mid (M), or slim (S) sized book. - - - - - Alternate Record Books - - - - - We carry a full line of record keeping book series in various formats and colors, including: - Controlled Drug Record Books - Individual Narcotic Record Books - Controlled Substance Record Books - NEW - Veterinary Record Books - NEW - - - - - Customize Your Books - - - - - Can't find what you're looking for? Do you need a specific form or layout in your book? Want a customized look or color scheme? Want to include your company name, logo, pictures, graphics, etc.? Steinbeck and Capa's account of their journey through Cold War Russia is a classic piece of reportage and travel writing. A Penguin Classic Just after the Iron Curtain fell on Eastern Europe, Pulitzer Prize-winning author John Steinbeck and acclaimed war photographer Robert Capa ventured into the Soviet Union to report for the New York Herald Tribune. This rare opportunity took the famous travelers not only to Moscow and Stalingrad – now Volgograd – but through the countryside of the Ukraine and the Caucasus. Hailed by the New York Times as "superb" when it first appeared in 1948, A Russian Journal is the distillation of their journey and remains a remarkable memoir and unique historical document. What they saw and movingly recorded in words and on film was what Steinbeck called "the great other side there ... the private life of the Russian people." Unlike other Western reporting about Russia at the time, A Russian Journal is free of ideological obsessions. Rather, Steinbeck and Capa recorded the grim realities of factory workers, government clerks, and peasants, as they emerged from the rubble of World War II—represented here in Capa's stirring photographs alongside Steinbeck's masterful prose. Through it all, we are given intimate glimpses of two artists at the height of their powers, answering their need to document human struggle. This edition features an introduction by Steinbeck scholar Susan Shillinglaw. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,700 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by

This trading ledger was created by an active stock trader and allows the user to make detailed journal entries of all of their trading activities. Numerous psychological studies have determined that the best way for humans to learn is by writing things down with pen and paper, and then reviewing this information periodically. The author of this ledger holds a degree in psychology and used his knowledge of human learning to develop an intuitive ledger that allows traders to clarify their thoughts on paper and analyze all of their transactions. Even the cover has been designed with vivid colors and a retro pattern to evoke the limbic system of the brain

Qigong Teacher and Daoist Priest Michael Rinaldini has written a book on the modern day practices of a Daoist. His book, A Daoist Practice Journal: Come Laugh With Me offers the cultivation methods for walking the Daoist path. The entries cover topics like zuowang meditation, scriptures, qigong, the value of silence and solitude, and Daoist, Buddhist and Catholic mysticism, tea drinking and more. Here are some samples of his entries, which provide a glimpse into the heart of his writings.

2012 January 14 Sky Farm Hermitage Solitary Retreat In silence and solitude I begin another retreat on Saturday afternoon, January 14, 2012. The rest of Saturday afternoon was spent un-packing and settling into a 6-day retreat. 6:15pm What does a Daoist eat while on retreat? Tonight, I made a soup with soba noodles and assorted vegetables. I forgot to bring ginger root. 9:40pm I vow to practice ... in silence and solitude, until I realize Complete Perfection.

January 15 8:30pm One of my goals for this retreat is to write about the common practices between the Daoist and the Christian paths. I am specifically interested in the Daoist zuowang meditation method of sitting in forgetfulness or oblivion, and the Christian fourteenth-century mystical text, The Cloud of Unknowing. Both of these ways of meditation or contemplation feature an emphasis on placing the mind's activities into a state of forgetting or the cloud of forgetting. The Cloud, was written by an anonymous author, and it is speculated that the author was a Carthusian monk, and if not, possibly a Catholic priest living a hermetic lifestyle.

And so what are the similarities, the common practices between zuowang meditation, and the contemplative practices as presented in The Cloud of Unknowing? January 16 2pm Sitting in silence outside on the porch, The only sounds-birds singing, An occasional movement of the wind, And very faint voices from neighbors down the valley. Odd at how sound travels. And right now, there was the sound of a car, actually, What I heard was the sound of the road, A gritty gravel sound. My mind filled in the blanks, And I instantly labeled it, "a car driving nearby," Though it could have been a truck. And now my sneezes and coughing, And blowing my nose, all disrupt the silence A large crow just landed in my valley, Returning me to silence. January 17 Sitting on the porch, all bundled up. Drinking Scottish Christmas tea and a banana, and one cookie. A large part of being in silence and solitude is simply listening. Even the wind down the valley. You can hear it as it makes it way up the hills, And now, I feel it against my body, It flaps the page of this journal book. And before you know it- It's gone, and the silence returns. Except for the birds, sound of distant dogs, chickens, And that same sound that cars/trucks make on the gravel road. 12:30pm The Cloud's author says: Forget what you know. Forget everything God made and everybody who exists and everything that's going on in the world, until your thoughts and emotions aren't focused on or reaching toward anything, not in a general way and not in any particular way. Let them be. For the moment, don't care about anything (11). And finally, why even bother to think? From the zuowang tradition: I forget the vastness even of Heaven and Earth, Never mind the minuteness of the hair in autumn. Resting in serenity and silence, I listen to Pure Harmony. Still, I am free, away from it all! Movement stilled, language silenced- Why ever think? (212). January 18 4:30 pm Inspired from yesterday's research, and last full day of retreat. Forget everything, Put
