Toby's biggest dream was to travel around the world. Since childhood he always loved adventures and exploring new places. But life had different plans for him. A life he created for himself according to "the book". He lives a typical normal life - he got married, has a good bank job, mortgage to pay and plans for the future. But this was never his real dream. He feels drained, unhappy and tired from daily routine. He feels he is missing the essence of life, and he doesn't want to regret never trying something else. He wants to fulfill his biggest dream but this comes with a high price tag - everything he built over the years. He struggles with himself, changing his mind rapidly and facing his deepest fears. His inner conflicts and dilemmas accompany him every step of the way. Will he be able to leave everything behind and fulfill his dream? Is he really ready for hard choices? It's a struggle between social pressure and personal desires, and only one can win. This is a story about a man looking for fulfillment. He understands time is the most precious thing in life, therefore he doesn't want to waste it anymore. Because of his past decisions, he feels incomplete. With determination and sacrifice he decides to change the journey of his life. There are lots of hurdles, but he believes in his right to live the life he truly deserves before it gets too late. It's a story about doing the things you believe in, even though it seems impossible. An adventurer trapped in the daily routine. Life is one big opportunity combined with lots of smaller opportunities; if you miss one, it might never come back.

'If Finn Maison shouts jump you jump or you are dead.' Twelve-year-old Willem has Aspergers Syndrome and two main aims in life: to fly and to make at least two friends of his own age. But all the other boys from the Beckham Estate do is make him jump off things. First his desk - and now the wall. As his toes teeter on the edge, Sasha Bradley gives him a tiny little wink. Might she become his friend? Bullied by Finn and his gang the Beckham Estate Boyz, Willem has no choice but to jump. As he flies through the air he flaps his arms, wishing he could fly and escape into the clouds. Instead he comes crashing down and breaks his ankle. Sasha, angry with herself for not stopping Finn and his Boyz, is determined to put things right. And soon, while the gangs riot on their estate, Willem and Sasha form an unlikely friendship. Because they share a secret. Sasha longs to fly too. And when Magic Man Archie arrives with stories of war-flying spitfires, he will change the lives of the kids on the Beckham Estate for ever. And perhaps find a way for Willem and Sasha to fly ... Touching on themes such as friendship and bullying, this is a charming tale about overcoming obstacles and finding friendship in unlikely places. The remarkable autobiography of a pioneering female aviator who left a privileged life to serve in World War II. Her father was a millionaire race-car driver who became chairman of Bentley Motors, and her grandfather cofounded the De Beers mining company. But by the late 1930s, debutante Diana Barnato had enough of her affluent, chaperoned existence and sought excitement in flying—soloing at Brooklands after only six hours' training. Joining the Air Transport Auxiliary in 1941 to help ferry aircraft to squadrons and bases throughout the country, she flew scores of different aircraft—fighters, bombers, and trainers—in all kinds of conditions, and without a radio. By 1945, Barnato had lost many friends, a fiancé, and a husband—but she continued to fly. In 1962 she was awarded the Jean Lennox Bird Trophy for notable achievement in aviation, but her greatest moment was yet to come, when in 1963 she flew a Lightning through the sound barrier, becoming “the fastest woman in the world.” Spreading My Wings is her remarkable memoir, brimming with history and adventure.

Spread Your Wings and Fly is a book about a beautiful and colorful bird family. The story concentrates on the two of three little birds in the family—Remmy Bird and Sophie Bird. searching for this treasure, and the safety of Matt's family may depend on him getting to it first. The only problem is that to do so he will have to talk to the man he holds responsible for the greatest loss in his life, and in doing so confront his broken dream of taking to the skies. Fly with a young man through life's journey of hopes, dreams and tragedies! ARC Reader: "World War II is not my genre. That being said, this was an EXCELLENT story!!! I really, really enjoyed it! And the story is woven between World War II and the modern world of 1985."

Anita de la Torre never questioned her freedom living in the Dominican Republic. But by her 12th birthday in 1960, most of her relatives have emigrated to the United States, her Tío Toni has disappeared without a trace, and the government's secret police terrorize her remaining family because of their suspected opposition of el Trujillo's dictatorship. Using the strength and courage of her family, Anita must overcome her fears and fly to freedom, leaving all that she once knew behind. From renowned author Julia Alvarez comes an unforgettable story about adolescence, perseverance, and one girl's struggle to be free.

Anna and Abel couldn't be more different. They are both seventeen and in their last year of school, but while Anna lives in a nice old town house and comes from a well-to-do family, Abel, the school drug dealer, lives in a big, prisonlike tower block at the edge of town. Anna is afraid of him until she realizes that he is caring for his six-year-old sister on his own. Fascinated, Anna follows the two and listens as Abel tells little Micha the story of a tiny queen assailed by dark forces. It's a beautiful fairy tale that Anna comes to see has a basis in reality. Abel is in real danger of losing Micha to their abusive father and to his own inability to make ends meet. Anna gradually falls in love with Abel, but when his "enemies" begin to turn up dead, she fears she has fallen for a murderer. Has she? Award-winning author Antonia Michaelis moves in a bold new direction with her latest novel: a dark, haunting, contemporary story that is part mystery, part romance, and part melodrama. Praise for The Storyteller STARRED REVIEW "Michaelis crafts a beautifully written, carefully constructed mystery and love story that will capture the both the reader's imagination and heart from the first page. The novel weaves a sad and loving spell...this suspenseful, often violent, read will haunt readers long after its final page is turned." Self-doubt has many of us convinced that life is infinitely better if we keep telling ourselves "I can't" rather than face our fears and try. As a result, we feel frustrated and unfulfilled. This journal invites the writer to recognize their roots, relish their opportunities, and begin to transform their dreams to reality. Perfect for teenagers and adults alike, this journal presents the perfect prompts to catch all the stories that bring her closer to discovering a more joyful, fulfilled version of her most authentic self.

Everyone needs extra strength and encouragement in their walk with the Lord. As we journey in our Christian life, we experience sickness and death, loneliness and suffering, and fear and doubt. Sometimes we do not understand ourselves or God, or we want to give up. At other times, we may need a reminder of the true meaning of Easter, Christmas, repentance, and forgiveness. In some instances, we are searching for a meditation to help us praise the Lord or one to push us toward serving others. The poems, reflections, and scriptures in this book can offer us a special word from the Lord for these times, helping us to be strong and courageous, leading us to a spiritual place that is closer to His heart and to the hope we need to continue this lifelong journey of faith

In the raw was how the world felt now. My feelings were raw, my thoughts were raw and hurtful like knife blades. . . . In the blue had been my place to hide, now In the raw there was nowhere to hide. Jenna Abbott separates her life into two categories: before the wreck and after the wreck. Before the wreck, she was leading a normal life with her mom in suburban New York. After the wreck, Jenna is alone, trying desperately to forget what happened that day on the bridge. She's determined not to let anyone get close to her -- she never wants to feel so broken and fragile again. Then Jenna meets Crow. He is a powerfully seductive enigma, and Jenna is instantly drawn to him. Crow is able to break down the wall that Jenna has built around her emotions, and she surprises herself by telling him things she hasn't told anyone else. Can Jenna bring herself to face the memories she's tried so hard to erase?

Are you tired of mediocrity, average, the status quo, the norm, or the usual? If you are, then you are primed for your next level. However, after you are primed for the next level, you need to make yourself ready for the next level. God did not create anybody a loser or failure. God is too good to do that. God created all of us winners. Everybody can win and everybody can live a winning life, and constantly too. There is a winner inside you. You are born to win, but to win, you must know how to win. You can be everything that God wants you to be and do everything that He wants you to do if you know how. There is a winner in you, but you need to release him or her for the benefit of your world and to the glory of God. The book "Unleashed" unfolds time-tested principles from the infallible and unfailing Word of God on how you can unleash the winner in you.

The tale of Laia, the Butterfly Princess, is a body image parable for children inspiring them to appreciate the uniqueness of their design. Like many children, Laia was born with a distinct physical attribute, and she must learn to overcome fear and fly with confidence. Her continuing story encourages all children to embrace their "marks" from both birth and life.

Considers processes through which societal changes exert an impact on the course of adolescent development.

In this lost world where there is very little hope, we all need to reach out, to lift up and encourage each other every day. This anthology of inspirational poems was written in the hopes that someone out there would read one of the poems and see themselves or their situation in my words. Reflect and be comforted by this thought; God never forsakes us or abandons us. I pray that people would receive hope, love, joy, peace and salvation through our Lord and savior Jesus Christ. The second part of the book about mothers is to make us reflect on our childhood. It was written to encourage mothers all over the world and to let them know that they are very special to all of us. I pray that this book will be a source of reflection, healing, prayer and encouragement. I hope that this vessel of a book will help heal the lost and broken hearted, for without God and each other we have nothing.
