

Under Saturn's Shadow The Wounding And Healing Of Men Studies In Jungian Psychology By Jungian Analysts

Daryl Sharp

Under Saturn's Shadow James Hollis, 1994 Saturn was the Roman god who ate his children to stop them from usurping his power. Men have been psychologically and spiritually wounded by this legacy. Hollis offers a rich perspective on the secrets men carry in their hearts.

Phallos Eugene Monick, 1987 Through close examination of the physical, physiological and mythological aspects of phallos, the author differentiates masculinity from patriarchy and discovers a mysterious, divine reality coequal with the maternal principle as an originating force in the psyche.

The Middle Passage James Hollis, 1993 Title #59. Why do so many go through so much disruption in their middle years? Why then? Why do we consider it to be a crisis? What does the pattern mean and how can we survive it? The Middle Passage shows how we may pass through midlife consciously, rendering our lives more meaningful and the second half of life immeasurably richer.

The Matrix and Meaning of Character Nancy J. Dougherty, Jacqueline J. West, 2013-12-02 Character structures underlie everyone's personality. When rigidly defended, they limit us; yet as they become more flexible, they can reveal sources of animation, renewal and authenticity. The Matrix and Meaning of Character guides the reader into an awareness of the archetypal depths that underlie character structures, presenting an original developmental model in which current analytic theories are synthesised. The authors examine nine character structures, animating them with fairy tales, mythic images and case material, creating a bridge between the traditional language of psychopathology and the universal realm of image and symbol. This book will appeal to all analytical psychologists, psychoanalysts and psychotherapists who want to strengthen their clinical expertise. It will help clinicians to extend their clinical insights beyond a strictly behavioural, medical or cognitive approach, revealing the potential of the human spirit.

Personality Types Daryl Sharp, 1987 Explains the model of psychological types elaborated by C.G. Jung. -- Back cover.
Longing for Paradise Mario Jacoby, 2006 The longing for freedom from conflict, suffering and deprivation is an eternal human dream of great emotional power. It is the dream of total happiness, embodied in almost all cultures as the myth of Paradise. The author, a Jungian analyst, begins with a discussion of the psychological connection between the idea of Paradise and the crucially decisive quality of the Mother-infant relationship in determining a child's development.

The Vertical Labyrinth Aldo Carotenuto, 1985 Guided journey through the world of dreams and psychic reality, showing how individual psychological development parallels the historical evolution of consciousness. Special attention to artists and creativity in men.

The Secret Lore of Gardening Graham Jackson, 1991 An archetypal perspective on the psychological bond between green and yellow men, with affinities to earth and sky, matter and spirit, respectively, showing how the fruit of their symbolic gardening can be a deeply rooted affirmation of life. Literature, film and clinical experience.

The Eden Project James Hollis, 1998 James Hollis examines society's fixed views and fantasies in regards to relationships. This text is not a practical guide on how to fix a relationship, but rather a challenge to greater personal responsibility, a call for individual growth as opposed to seeking rescue through others.

Finding Our Fathers Samuel Osherson, 2001 With a new Introduction by the author, this seminal classic examines the hidden struggle faced by millions of men: how to reconcile their childhood images of their fathers as silent, stoic breadwinners with the life they want to live now.

Food and Transformation Eve Jackson, 1996 Discusses the psychological meanings attached to food and eating. -- Back cover.

The Archetypal Imagination James Hollis, 2002-11-25 Also available in an open-access, full-text edition at <http://oaktrust.library.tamu.edu/handle/1969.1/85764> What we wish to know, and most desire, remains unknowable and lies beyond our grasp. With these words, James Hollis leads readers to consider the nature of our human need for meaning in life and for connection to a world less limiting than our own. In The Archetypal Imagination, Hollis offers a lyrical Jungian appreciation of the archetypal imagination. He argues that without the human mind's ability to form energy-filled images that link us to worlds beyond our rational and emotional capacities, we would have neither culture nor spirituality. Drawing upon the work of poets and philosophers, Hollis shows the importance of depth experience, meaning, and connection to an other world. Just as humans have instincts for biological survival and social interaction, we have instincts for spiritual connection as well. Just as our physical and social needs seek satisfaction, so the spiritual instincts of the human animal are expressed in images we form to evoke an emotional or spiritual response, as in our dreams, myths, and religious traditions. The author draws upon the work of the poet Rainer Maria Rilke's Duino Elegies to elucidate the archetypal imagination in literary forms.

To underscore the importance of incarnating depth experience, he also examines a series of paintings by Nancy Witt. With the power of the archetypal imagination available to all of us, we are invited to summon courage to take on the world anew, to relinquish outmoded identities and defenses, and to risk a radical re-imagining of the larger possibilities of the world and of the self.

On this Journey We Call Our Life James Hollis, 2003

Celebrating Soul Lawrence W. Jaffe, 1999 Explores the spiritual significance of Jungian psychology and its message of personal and cultural renewal. The author sees Jung's emphasis on the redemptive power of consciousness as the start of a new religion that he describes as the marriage between reason and faith, science and religion.

Sacred Chaos Françoise O'Kane, 1994 God's shadow, or the dark Self, is connected to death, destruction and madness. Paradoxically, it is also indispensable to life. At a time when our highest values are turning against us, the psychological message of this book is a beacon of hope.

Getting to Know You Daryl Sharp, 1992 A lively discussion based on the ideas in Jung's essay, Marriage As a Psychological Relationship. Complex material illustrated with everyday examples. Some inescapable truths emerge, such as that successful relationships depend on becoming conscious of one's personal psychology.

The Mother Sibylle Birkhäuser-Oeri, 1988 A practical illustration of how the mother complex functions in the world as well as in the deeper regions of the psyche. The focus here is on positive and negative aspects of the maternal image in well-known fairy tales, including Snow White, Sleeping Beauty and Hansel and Gretel.
